EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Even though 2020 has been a year of unique and historic challenges, the Adirondack region has fared well. We have found our successes in working with community residents, businesses, governments, and visitors during this unprecedented time. ROOST reorganized staff, reconstructed the program of work, and adjusted budgets to increase efficiencies and productivity in 2020.

The ROOST 2020 program of work was appropriately reshaped for this unique year. The team created “Pathway Forward,” an initiative with the mission of reopening the tourism economy in a way that kept the safety of our residents the priority, while speaking to the traveler with appropriate messaging.

As we plan for 2021, we will start to move from a destination marketing organization (DMO) to a Destination Marketing and Management organization (DMMO). We will start the process to create a vision and a road map that will develop an overall positioning and implementation strategy for the future of the visitor economy in all of our regions.

We will continue to focus on the safety and economic health of our communities using new and creative marketing initiatives to speak to the newly reinvented travel market. Our outdoorsy, community-driven, fun, creative, passionate, and dog-friendly team are excited to tackle 2021!

Thank you for your support,

James B. McKenna, CEO
Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism

A LOOK BACK

2020...

The first step of developing our annual marketing plan is to review the activity, data, and industry trends from the previous year. As we embarked on this activity for the development of the 2021 plan, we had a flashback to one weekend in late January of 2020. On this specific weekend, part of the ROOST team was busy helping kick off the annual Empire State Winter Games torch run in both New York City and Buffalo, preparing to make their journey to the Opening Ceremonies at the Olympic Center in Lake Placid. Meanwhile, another part of the team was at the Javits Center for the New York Times Travel Show, where they were enticing potential travelers to plan a trip to the Adirondacks.

Winter marketing campaigns were running strong and the team was going full speed ahead on summer planning. Overall, things were looking good for the region as travel numbers were continuing to grow year-over-year and all indicators pointed towards another strong year for tourism in the Adirondacks.

What a lifetime ago that now seems. Just a little over a month later, we were meeting with community partners in the Conference Center at Lake Placid to discuss the status of the COVID-19 pandemic. It was here that many of us witnessed for the first time what chairs 6-feet apart looked like – while many others joined by phone. Within the next week, our communities came to what felt like a screeching halt.

As the days, weeks, and months unfolded, ROOST hosted regular “Community Update” meetings in coordination with our community leaders and health officials. We created the “Pathway Forward” strategy, an initiative with the mission of reopening the tourism economy in four mindful phases: Mitigation, Local Kick Start, Regional Movement, and Reinvented Travel Market.

When the North Country began to move through the phases of reopening, we initiated the “Politely Adirondack” campaign in partnership with our local communities to help step up compliance of the recommended health protocols using friendly Adirondack animals. Next, the team transitioned to highlighting safe regional travel focused on wide-open spaces and outdoor activities that could position the Adirondacks for recovery. Together along the way, we learned to pivot and adapt on a moment’s notice.

Even though 2020 has been a year of unique and historic challenges, we are proud of the work we have completed in partnership with our stakeholders, industry partners, and local communities. Throughout, we continued to be inspired by the hard work and ingenuity of our local businesses and community members as we faced ever changing situations. In 2021, we remained committed to working together with all of our partners to become an even stronger Adirondack region.

If there was one quote of the many cliché quotes that came out of 2020 that truly shaped our thinking as we developed the 2021 marketing plan it is “the only thing that is certain is uncertainty.” The plan needs to provide a strong roadmap of priorities, while still providing the flexibility to pivot on short notice as we navigate the coming year together.

PERFORMANCE SNAPSHOT

At ROOST we're focused on data-driven results, from tracking traveler spending and Return on Investment (ROI) to website and social media statistics. Additionally, we are following industry and regional data and information around the impact of COVID-19.

COVID-19 IMPACT

Beginning in late March of 2020, traveler data and positive travel indicators took an abrupt dive. The Adirondack region did see a slight rebound during the height of typical summer and fall travel, but with the increase in COVID-19 cases in the latter part of 2020, the area is experiencing a significant downturn in travel again.

According to data from Longwoods International, as of late November 2020, 77% of travelers will change their travel plans in the next 6 months due to COVID-19, and 44% do not plan on traveling until there is a vaccine available.

The impact of the pandemic can be easily seen when comparing various year-over-year data we track routinely.

OVERVIEW

PROGRAM GOALS

The goal of ROOST's programming is to not only attract travelers, but to also be an advocate for local tourism issues in order to reach a year-round tourism economy that aids in diversifying local communities.

In January 2020, the Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism developed a new 3-year strategic plan for the organization. The purpose of this plan is to provide an updated vision and mission, new strategic goals and actionable initiatives, and new targets and timelines.

ROOST and its Board of Directors are united in their vision for the future of the region's visitor economy. As agreed collectively, the new vision and mission for the organization provide direction for the sustainable growth of the region, based on the shared interests of stakeholders, visitors, and the local community.

To achieve ROOST's vision, there are four new strategic goals for the organization:

INTENTIONAL COMMUNITY ALIGNMENT

Build stronger relationships across tourism, community organizations, and residents region-wide; establish better partnerships with workforce development organizations by advocating for career opportunities; and develop initiatives to increase full-time resident and youth retention.

DESTINATION MANAGEMENT

Align with the region's public and private sector strategic planning initiatives; and develop an overall positioning and implementation strategy for the future of the visitor economy.

STRATEGIC SALES AND MARKETING

Drive midweek business and the average length of stay; expand and promote environmental cause marketing; and diversify the customer base by expanding a variety of content on destination experience.

SUSTAINABLE ORGANIZATION STRATEGY

Increase transparency around ROOST's initiatives and create partnerships that will align with the communities and organizational goals.

SWOT ANALYSIS

By evaluating the strengths and weaknesses of, opportunities for, as well as threats to, the region, we can develop a greater understanding of the market environment and how to most effectively position the region's marketing initiatives.

Strengths

- Recreation: Critical mass of varied outdoor recreational experiences.
- Amenities: Diverse blend of amenities, attractions, and unique experiences.
- The Adirondack Park: Largest publicly protected area in the contiguous United States.
- Mountains and water: Diverse and beautiful topography of mountains and lakes.
- Location: Within driving distance of major metropolitan areas in the Northeastern U.S. and Southeastern Canada.
- Space: 6-million acres and with low population density, the Adirondacks provide ample space to spread out and explore.

Weaknesses

- Seasonality: The natural seasonality of the Adirondacks poses challenges, everything from staffing to investment opportunities.
- Transportation infrastructure: Limited air service, mass transit, and ground transportation.
- Capacity: Some resources are over capacity during peak travel times and major events.
- Lodging: Limited availability of modern lodging amenities in some areas of the region.
- Workforce: Across the region, businesses are feeling the crunch from workforce shortages and workforce housing.
- Communications and Broadband Infrastructure: Gaps in cell phone coverage and high-speed broadband continue to exist.

Opportunities

- Transportation: New United/SkyWest connection between Plattsburgh Airport and Washington-Dulles. Work with regional partners to expand air connections.
- Mid-week: Room for growth mid-week throughout all four seasons.
- Cultural experiences: Increased awareness of Adirondack experiences beyond outdoor recreation, cultural attractions, arts, and agritourism.
- Diversity: By focusing on cultivating more inclusive destinations, the Adirondacks has the opportunity to reach and attract a new and growing audience.
- Seasonality: Through more focused efforts on cultural activities, groups/conferences, and events, the challenges of seasonality can be turned into an opportunity.

Threats

- Health and safety: As witnessed in 2020, a health crisis (i.e. the COVID-19 pandemic) can impact travel patterns.
- Economy: Factors like an economic downturn and U.S./Canadian exchange rates can impact travel patterns.
- Weather: With such a high concentration of tourism drivers being outdoor activities, the Adirondacks sees a large impact from unseasonable weather.
- Political: Shifts in political policy, border crossing regulations, and perception of the U.S. can impact travel patterns.
- Natural resources: Increased use of natural resources has a negative impact on communities, the environment, and the traveler experience (e.g. the High Peaks).

Performance Measures

Mechanisms over which ROOST has complete control that, when targets are applied, determine ROOST's success:

- Return on Investment (ROI) Leisure Travel Study
- Bookings: traditional, convention, events, tours
- Smith Travel Report (hotel occupancy)
- Leads generated
- Inquiries converted
- Media outreach, quality, and volume
- Social media followers, fans, and engagement
- Website performance analytics
- PR reach (Cision data tracking)

Performance Indicators

Mechanisms that determine the success of the tourism industry within a given destination and "indicate" the impact of ROOST's efforts:

- Economic impact of tourism (NYS ESD)
- Occupancy percentage
- Occupancy tax collections
- Length of stay and per party expenditures
- Attraction and event attendance
- Advertising, social media, and website analytics

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Strong community outreach and engagement is a critical component to successful strategy development and implementation.

As stated in our mission, ROOST leverages tourism to "enrich the lives of residents and visitors by creating a tourism economy that sustains itself over time - economically, socially, and environmentally." Additionally, a major goal of the 2020-23 ROOST Strategic Plan was "Intentional Community Alignment."

In 2021, ROOST will remain committed to:

- Continuing to build on regular communications with municipalities, community leaders, Chamber partners, and community organizations/groups to build strong partnerships.
- Collaborating with all local hospitality and business partners to set priorities and achieve goals.
- Hosting regular "community updates" and planning meetings.
- Strengthening relationships by developing opportunities to increase engagement with community residents region wide.
- Rebuild RoostADK.com to create a more efficient place for community members and partners to find important information and resources.

RESEARCH

While incorporating a variety of research into marketing planning and initiatives, ROOST also strives to be a source of research and information. Through a variety of annual and semi-annual in-house and partner research projects, we've been helping investors and small businesses understand the Adirondack tourism economy for decades. Additional data and sources regarding COVID-19's effects on travel have been, and will continue to be, a large part of the decision making process throughout 2021.

Leisure Travel Study

Each year, as part of our commitment to tracking performance, the Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism conducts a conversion study. Known as the Annual Leisure Travel Study, this research is administered by an independent third-party research company. PlaceMaking consultants have been conducting this research for Essex County for 16 years.

The research includes poll results from visitors to the region through a survey designed jointly by ROOST and PlaceMaking consultants. The survey is distributed through ROOST's trackable leads database. Leads represent the contact information collected from individuals who have responded to ROOST's destination marketing efforts, such as online contest entries, newsletter sign-ups, or engaged social media followers. The survey's goal is to measure detailed visitor information and estimated expenditures for both traditional lodging and camping, as well as short-term rentals and day-trippers. This data is then analyzed by PlaceMaking consultants and published for use by all regional tourism-related businesses.

ROVE - Mobile Location Data

New in 2021, in partnership with the Adirondack Regional Tourism Council (ARTC), ROOST will take advantage of a NYSTIA (New York State Tourism Industry Association) co-op program to gain insight on the Adirondack traveler through mobile location data.

The ROVE mobile location data service will provide a more granular lens on visitor behavior, helping us see where they come from, who they are, how long they stay, and where they go while in their destination. This data becomes a valuable source of insight for media planning, itinerary development, and developing strong regional partnerships. More specifically, this will help us have nearly real time data to help better understand shifts in travel patterns such as we experienced in the summer and fall of 2020 when, anecdotally, we saw a trend of first time visitors around the region.

DESTINATION MANAGEMENT

Successful destinations need to balance economic development and sustainable tourism with resident quality of life.

Destination management is the means by which communities and regions can build support around a shared vision for the destination. ROOST will continue to assist in identifying and implementing programs within the communities it serves that balance community and tourism stakeholder goals. Destination management is an important tool that can unify a community/region towards a sustainable tourism economy beneficial to both residents and travelers. Please reference regional destination management sections for specific destination management programming.

Additionally, we will continue to leverage our destination marketing efforts to address destination management issues. A few examples of this can be found in programming such as #ShopADK, Love Your ADK (Leave No Trace education), and Politely Adirondack. By dovetailing together both destination marketing and management efforts, we can maximize resource utilization as we work to achieve the shared goal of strengthening our community/region.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY, AND INCLUSION (DEI)

ROOST is committed to a greater focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion, and considers them essential to our organization and Adirondack communities. We are determined to foster an environment of inclusion, diversity, openness, and respect for the many differences that enrich our regions, including race, ethnicity, religion, gender, age, socioeconomic status, national origin, language, sexual orientation, and disability.

In 2020 ROOST partnered with Travel Unity as a member of the first cohort for Travel Unity's DEI Standards for Travel and Tourism certification program. ROOST will continue to work with the Travel Unity team into 2021, working through their list of standards to ensure that our organization fosters an open and inclusive work environment, promotes and welcomes a diverse traveler, and ultimately, creates a more diverse Adirondack community.

The three sections outlined in the DEI Standards include Management and Workforce, Visitorship, and Community Impact. As we work through these sections some of our goals for 2021 and beyond include:

- Host regular DEI staff training covering a variety of topics.
- Work to bring educational programming to our regional marketing partners.
- Build relationships with and pitch stories to travel writers and influencers that appeal to a diverse audience.
- Foster relationships with diverse travel ambassadors to help create authentic content (images, stories, etc.) for the regional websites.
- Explore developing translated landing pages for key languages.
- Identify and develop website resources that more clearly display accessible amenities.

DM

DESTINATION MARKETING

TARGET MARKET

The target market contains those most likely to choose the Adirondacks as their vacation destination. The information in this section consists of a mix of previous year's data combined with emerging pandemic travel data available.

DM

REGIONAL TRAVELER

The safety of our residents and travelers remains our highest priority. During this time we have adjusted our target audience to focus on the “regional traveler.” This consists of New York state residents within a 2-3 hour drive of the destination. We will continue to monitor the impact of the pandemic via the New York Forward dashboard and adjust accordingly throughout the coming year.

THE ADIRONDACK TRAVELER

The Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism employs a data-driven strategy. In addition to following the latest industry trends, referencing tourism research (regional, state, and national), and tracking campaign metrics, ROOST conducts an annual Leisure Travel Study to help gain a better understanding of the target market and the impact that ROOST's efforts have on visitor's travel decisions. We are also making strong efforts to include emerging pandemic travel pattern data from sources like Longwoods International.

PlaceMaking researchers have been conducting the Leisure Travel Study for ROOST for 16 years. This survey, in conjunction with other metrics, provides a comprehensive picture of the Adirondack traveler. While variations certainly exist among regions and are explored in some detail within each region's individual marketing plan, the Adirondack traveler is generally:

- Primarily from New York state.
- Secondarily from other northeastern states.
- Canadian visitation is around 5%, but skews much higher in the Northern Adirondacks. This share has been steadily increasing over the past few years.
- Average age is 56, with strong populations in the 39-54 range and 55+ range.
- Average income is typically around $100,000.
- Most reach the Adirondacks either by rental vehicle or a vehicle they own.
- Typically within a 2-8 hour drive.
- Average length of stay is 3 nights, with a party size of about four people.
- The 2019 Leisure Travel Study also included a comprehensive breakout of day-trippers. This additional data reinforced some key differences in this traveler type.

DAY TRIPPER

- Approximately a 17% lower average income than the average overnight traveler.
- Less likely to participate in outdoor recreation.
- While average expenditures were around 20% of those of overnight travelers, they are strong repeat visitors.
- Typically within a 1-3 hour drive.

SHORT-TERM RENTALS

Short-term rentals have seen significant growth over the last 3 years with the explosion of online booking sites like Airbnb. Travelers making use of short-term rentals tend to:

- Have 1/3 higher average trip expenditures than other overnight travelers.
- Tend to stay longer, average of 4.9 nights.
- Tend to have higher average income, over $110,000.

DM

CANADIAN TRAVELER

The border with Canada is currently closed through the start of 2021. As such, there is currently no scheduled advertising to the Canadian market other than regular email communications. However, once the border re-opens to non-essential travel, the following data should remain relevant for targeted marketing to Canadians.

- The Adirondack region has a strong image and visit conversion level as an outdoor recreation destination for Canadians.
- Most Canadian customers indicate visits to multiple communities within the region.
- Canadian customers are equally willing to consider a fall visit to the region as a summer visit.
- According to 2019 data, cross-border shopping is viewed as a secondary reason to visit by 44%, while only 7% noted shopping as the primary reason for a trip.

REINVENTED TRAVELER

As we move through 2021 and emerge from the pandemic, we anticipate the new traveler may not be exactly the same as the pre-pandemic traveler. Changes are anticipated in expectations of the traveler, tourism drivers, and new markets may emerge or shift. To best understand and target the “reinvented traveler,” we will use a combination of existing data, new data collection sources, and new industry travel information. All of this information will help us better market our region to those who will choose the Adirondacks as their vacation destination.

TRAVELER CYCLE

Travel marketing doesn't simply begin when someone is looking to book a trip — it starts with a dream.

The overall leisure travel marketing strategy that ROOST implements focuses on the five stages of travel: Dreaming, Researching, Booking, Experiencing, and Sharing. As travel marketers, it's important for us to target potential customers at each point in that travel funnel.

Dreaming

THE STIMULUS

Travelers love to dream about their next vacation or weekend getaway. During the initial dreaming phase of travel, the audience is made aware of the general product and experiences the Adirondacks has to offer.

Researching

ZERO MOMENT OF TRUTH

As the traveler moves from the dreaming to the research or planning phase of the travel journey, they begin to explore what travel experiences meet their desires, budget, etc. ROOST employs a significant amount of resources to ensure that the information the traveler is looking for is easily accessible as they plan their trip.

Booking

FIRST MOMENT OF TRUTH

As consumer travel behaviors continue to demonstrate, consumers want transactions that are as smooth and seamless as possible. As a result, simplifying the user's booking process will continue to be a high priority. Younger travelers in particular would rather book online at their convenience than by speaking with someone on the phone.

Experience

SECOND MOMENT OF TRUTH

The customer has chosen the Adirondacks as their vacation destination. While marketing is important, the outcome of the Experience Stage is largely reliant on the experience the traveler has while staying in the region. A great customer experience is critical to ensuring the person leaves happy and shares this positive experience. With sharing now happening in real-time, travelers are sharing both positive and negative experiences while they are on their trip.

Sharing

ULTIMATE MOMENT OF TRUTH

Even though the trip is over, the journey through the travel cycle is not. Now the traveler is not only telling the world what they did, but they are also stimulating the dreaming phase for others. This is our chance to make them our ambassadors.

Crossover

Researching/Booking: According to Google, “over 40% of travelers say they bounce back and forth between dreaming and researching their next trip, zooming in on the details for one destination and then zooming out to reconsider all the options again.”

Experience/Sharing: With the growth in popularity of social media and travel review sites, sharing now begins while travelers are in the Experience Stage of travel, and can even begin in the early stages of the travel cycle.

MARKETING METHODS

From inspiring travel through authentic stories, videos, and social media posts, to data-driven and targeted ad placements with a strong call to action, ROOST employs a wide mix of marketing efforts to reach our intended target audience. These methods are driven by industry standards and research, which are then adapted and closely monitored to provide the greatest return for the region.

CONTENT MARKETING STRATEGY

A strong content strategy is about building relationships with your customers. Taking a trip is a personal experience and authentic content that builds relationships with potential travelers matches that sentiment. Furthermore, blog posts are compounding, meaning organic search increases their traffic over time.

With changes in search engine algorithms and display tactics over the last several years, organic search traffic has seen flat or declining growth for business and other generic site pages. However, search traffic directed to story content has continued to grow despite these changes. As such, a strong content strategy focused around stories and personal experiences remains effective for both the traveler and as a method to garner more organic search traffic.

AUTHENTIC STORIES

Authentic stories, also known as blogs, continue to be powerful vehicles for destinations to stimulate the dreaming phase of travel and build good relationships with potential visitors. Story content has been and will continue to be a major component of the overall marketing strategy that ROOST employs.

As a result, story content continues to play a major role in the leisure travel marketing strategy for 2021. This will include a blend of the following first person narratives, photo essays, listicles, itineraries, human interest stories, FAQ, and UGC (User Generated Content).

- New long-form content (800-2,000 words)
- Even with people reading less, and Google adjusting their algorithms to be mobile-first, the average content length for Page 1 search results is still around 1,900 words.
- New short-form content or “micro-moments” (500-800 words)
- With more than half of travel inquiries now coming from a mobile device, having short, digestible content that answers their inquiries is imperative.
- Refreshed Content for SEO

Along with writing new story content, ROOST will also continue to leverage past efforts by conducting a comprehensive review of existing content and identifying resources that can be adjusted and updated to improve their search rankings. See the Search Engine Optimization Section (SEO) for additional details.

Page content is a critical part of the research phase of travel. A good, persuasive landing page grabs the attention of the user and compels them to convert from a website user to a traveler. Since page content is often an inbound landing page for targeted paid advertising efforts, it is essential that the landing pages feature a clean layout, boast vivid images, display information in an easy-to-navigate manner, and answer any questions the potential traveler may have.

Continuously updating and improving page content will continue to be a high priority in 2021, as it not only ensures that the most relevant content is available to travelers, it also triggers search engines to reindex the pages, resulting in higher SEO rankings. Additionally, new pages will be created on many of the websites in order to better meet the needs of the traveler.

regions, these businesses and activities receive a free basic listing. In some regions, businesses can purchase an enhanced listing on their respective destination websites to increase their visibility in marketing programs. In other regions, long-standing agreements have been made in which ROOST supports the Chamber of Commerce by providing enhanced listings to their business members.

Events Listings

ROOST maintains one of the most comprehensive databases of events, virtual experiences, and notices in the region. This calendar, and “Insider” email which is populated from it, continues to be a popular resource. Traditionally geared toward the leisure traveler, in March of 2020 during the initial days of the COVID-19 pandemic, the calendar took a quick pivot toward being a resource for local residents and business owners to find information that is relevant to them. These modifications have allowed us to continue to not only use the event listings to get details out about traditional and digital events, but also on information such as public notices, restaurant take-out, business offerings, etc.

The database is accessible to anyone from the public who wants to enter content into it. ROOST ensures quality control of this database and continuously monitors the events listings to make sure all major events are listed with the most up-to-date information.

Compelling and inspiring photography increases engagement across all media applications, whether it is increasing the click-through rate on a display ad, improving the view rate of an article, or strengthening social media engagement.

Great photography that captures the beauty and uniqueness of the region will continue to be a priority in 2021. As a result of this continued effort, ROOST has accumulated and indexed more than 79,000 professional images of the region. These images are being used in all facets of our marketing efforts. Additionally, these resources are made available to marketing partners upon request for use in enhancing their efforts.

The priorities for photography in 2021 are as follows:

- Fill in identified gaps in the media library (see regional sections for specific details).
- Continued effort to increase diversity in images.
- Assist marketing partners with improving the photo assets.
- Incorporate high-profile influencers into photos for use in content and paid campaigns.
- Increased incorporation of user-generated content.

VIDEO

In an era in which video consumption continues to grow at a staggering rate, ROOST is positioned to continue to deliver strong video content to inspire the Dreaming and Research phases of travel. Our 2021 digital video strategy aligns with our overall strategy of continuing to build awareness of the destination by leveraging our unique assets to position the Adirondacks as a premier travel destination.

In 2021, the following initiatives have been set with regard to video:

- Increase brand awareness through video content by developing one signature four-season promotional video per region.
- Continue to fill in identified gaps in the media library (see regional sections for specific video acquisition and production details).
- Production of raw material gathered previously.
- Continued effort to increase diversity in video.
- Follow industry trends and implement best practices for video content.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Social media continues to be a key component in almost all facets of the Travel Journey, from stimulating the Dreaming Phase and carrying the traveler through their experience, travel is one of the top topics shared across social media. As a result, ROOST will continue to engage our growing audience by sharing unique content via social platforms.

Guided by numbers

- 30% of U.S. travelers turn to social media to find trip inspiration.
- 74% of travelers use social media while on vacation.
- 52% of Facebook users say their friends' photos inspire their travel plans.

The goal for our social channels will be to continue to create and share captivating and informative content that focuses on encouraging followers to participate and engage in the brand as opposed to only receiving static messaging. Additionally, in 2021 ROOST will continue to leverage influencers and ambassadors to continue to build brand awareness in the marketplace with a younger and more diverse travel demographic. As part of this strategy, we will revamp the ambassador focus from an event and general Adirondack awareness focus to tighter alignment with specific campaigns.

EMAIL MARKETING

The direct email marketing strategy grew considerably in its scope and complexity in 2020. This growth was driven by both the implementation of the Acoustic marketing platform, and as a result of the reduction in available paid advertising dollars in 2020. We saw great success with remarketing campaigns based on data from website traffic and user email behavior throughout the year.

2021 will also see the advent of a new round of region branded emails. These emails will primarily highlight individual experiences through the use of new and existing story content, and will be sent to a smaller send size of travelers who have interacted with the region brand either by providing their email address directly or by interacting with the website. The send size will be further narrowed down to individual interests of the specific traveler receiving the content - e.g. only travelers who have visited regional website hiking pages.

The "Community Insider" emails became a valuable asset during the COVID-19 pandemic as a way to reach locals effectively and disseminate vital information about businesses. These email lists saw increased growth during this period and this program will continue for the foreseeable future.

PAID MEDIA

Paid media continues to be a component of our strategy in 2021. We anticipate that in the coming year, we will need to continue to ensure that media placements take into consideration the ability to be adjusted quickly based on the current fluidity of travel due to COVID-19 and its impacts.

The main tactics that ROOST will consider employing in 2021 include:

NATIVE ADVERTISING

Native advertising continues to be a strong performer in ROOST-driven efforts. In particular, it is a useful tool for attracting a specific audience to a specific piece of targeted content. When placing native content advertising, we will primarily use pieces written by our in-house content team; however, at times (depending on the platform, as well as the size and scope of the media buy) it may also include pieces written by third-party contributors.

Some of the native content platforms that ROOST will employ in 2021 include, but are not limited to: StackAdapt, Google, Facebook, and Instagram.

DIGITAL DISPLAY

Display ads are helpful for remarketing as well as for targeting a specific website audience. The majority of display ads placed will be retargeting ads, reaching out to individuals who have previously engaged with our website or social media content and/or have expressed a recent interest in travel. They will typically have a stronger call to action aimed at conversion. Additionally, we often partner with specific websites that have an audience which aligns well with the specific product we are trying to market. The latter form of display ads is usually part of a larger media mix that also may include other forms of paid media, such as print and sponsored content.

SPONSORED CONTENT

Depending on the audience we are trying to reach, sponsored content with a source trusted by the audience is an opportunity to gain awareness and credibility. ROOST will seek out partnerships with travel and activity-based platforms that align well with the Adirondack brand.

DM

VIDEO DISTRIBUTION

Video is only as good as the audience it reaches. With video being an integral part of the overall strategy, ROOST will amplify its effectiveness by disseminating these assets to a target audience through pre-roll and mid-roll video placement and native placements.

PRINT

Print continues to be a strong component for building destination awareness. Typically, we seek out print opportunities that also carry a digital component to retarget the distributors' audience.

INFLUENCERS

Personal recommendations are considered the most effective form of advertising, especially when it comes to travel recommendations. As a result, influencer marketing will continue to be an avenue to expand awareness. When choosing influencers to work with, a detailed vetting process will be undertaken to ensure that the right audience and values align with the particular destination's brand. Additionally, a focus will be placed on building relationships with influencers that can speak authentically to diverse audiences.

Beyond the primary tactics, ROOST may continue to include a mix of television, radio, and paid search as part of the overall paid strategy.

PUBLIC RELATIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Third party validation provides “social proof” from trusted sources and experts that the region is a premier travel destination.

As part of its overall proactive communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure to elevate brand awareness and enforce key messages for the Adirondacks. To acquire earned media, the team develops and maintains relationships with media to gain publicity through various channels. This includes mass media outlets such as newspapers, television, radio, and the internet, as well as publishers and contributors for a variety of formats such as television/radio shows, travel editorials, blogs, vlogs (video blogs), podcasts, etc.

2021 PR STRATEGY:

- Continue to review and update the media kit.

- Develop story pitches that differentiate the destination and align with region priorities.
- Search national media databases for relevant media outlets to pitch story ideas to, send press releases to, and develop relationships with, in order to meet the goal of securing regional and national press coverage.
- Work with our PR firm, JMCPR, to secure regional, national, and international press coverage on new development, seasonal offerings, and specific differentiators for each region.
- Fulfill media inquiries from partner entities such as ILNY (Finn Partners) and other sources.
- Attend press events such as ILNY Media Nights, ATTA (Adventure Travel Trade Association), and Elevate Conference. For 2021, should in-person events not be available, ROOST will work with JMCPR to host virtual Adirondack media nights.
- Host travel writers and organize FAM (familiarization) tours based on vetted leads acquired by above listed activities.
- Focus on building relationships with travel writers and influencers that appeal to a diverse audience.
- Leverage paid media strategies through earned PR programs such as in-kind editorial content.
- Write and distribute press releases for regional promotions, seasonal “what’s new” pieces, and events.
- Amplify regional and partner PR efforts.
- Use Cision and Google Analytics to measure traffic and engagement generated by media coverage and influencer content.

CONSUMER SHOWS AND EVENTS

In past years, ROOST has participated in a number of strategically positioned industry shows and activation events. Examples of these activities include, but are not limited to: Adirondack Day at Saratoga Race Course, The New York Times Travel Show, ATTA Elevate (Adventure Travel Trade Association), and the Ottawa Travel and Vacation Show. We plan to evaluate these opportunities and types of events again in the future as they become available.

ORGANIC SEARCH

SEARCH ENGINE OPTIMIZATION

Trends continue to show that travelers are using online search as they look for travel ideas and plan their trips.

Each of our websites employ a particular keyword strategy specific to that region's products and differentiators. By creating content that's focused on these targeted keywords and phrases, we improve search engine visibility. While the overall strategy is decided upon in advance, to keep up with shifts in market demand, individual pieces of content may be adapted or developed to target emerging trends.

Since 2014, ROOST has employed an aggressive content creation strategy, with an especially high focus on stories, producing at least 400 new stories per year across all regions. Many of these old stories are highly trafficked, resulting in compound organic search traffic over the life of the story. Unfortunately, some of these older stories are out of date. In 2020, ROOST cut back new story production by about 35% to put a focus on refreshing and improving existing content for search engine optimization.

CHANGES IN SEARCH

In recent years, organizations have faced increasing challenges with regard to growing their organic traffic due to a few key factors. Examples include:

- Ongoing changes in search algorithms.
- Top search results continue to fall farther down the page as the pay-to-play market increased with more ads at the top.
- Emerging technologies such as voice search.
- Local listings became more prominent, pulling attention away from organic results and again resulting in lower positioning of the top-ranking organic results.
- Google, similar to other platforms, is trying more and more to keep users on their platform, especially on mobile, where they are pulling information from other websites and displaying that information in search results.
- As a result, research shows that 40% of organic traffic is answered by Google rather than resulting in an organic click.

MANAGING ONLINE REPUTATION

With these changes, DMOs need to pay more attention to how their destinations are represented across Google and other third-party platforms. To offset the challenges, Google has created the Google DMO Content Program.

ROOST will continue to put a further emphasis on evaluating and ensuring that the destination is displayed in a good light. An increased effort to improve the completeness, quality, and accuracy of content across Google Maps, Destination and Travel Guide Pages, Google Trips App, and more.

Similarly, we will continue to ensure the listings are up to date with partners such as I Love New York, Visit Adirondacks, and other third-party platforms.

BOOKING

ROOST continues to offer the Inntopia booking engine to partners interested in adding or expanding online booking efforts. The system is available for lodging and for activity/event booking. The system is offered at no monthly fee and only requires a small commission on behalf of participating partners for completed bookings. Currently, Inntopia serves as the primary booking platform for several regional partners and events, and as a supplementary sales channel for many more partners.

Inntopia also offers opportunities for packaging and ROOST is exploring other improvements which partners can use to promote any packages they offer.

IN-MARKET SERVICES

VISITOR SERVICES

Visitor services continue to be an integral part of our operations, either through ROOST-managed visitor service offices or through the support of continued partnership with local chambers of commerce and/or community-based tourism departments. Additionally, having Regional Marketing Managers/Representatives on the ground in each region further encourages the collaborative effort between our marketing partners' front line staff and the overarching tourism program.

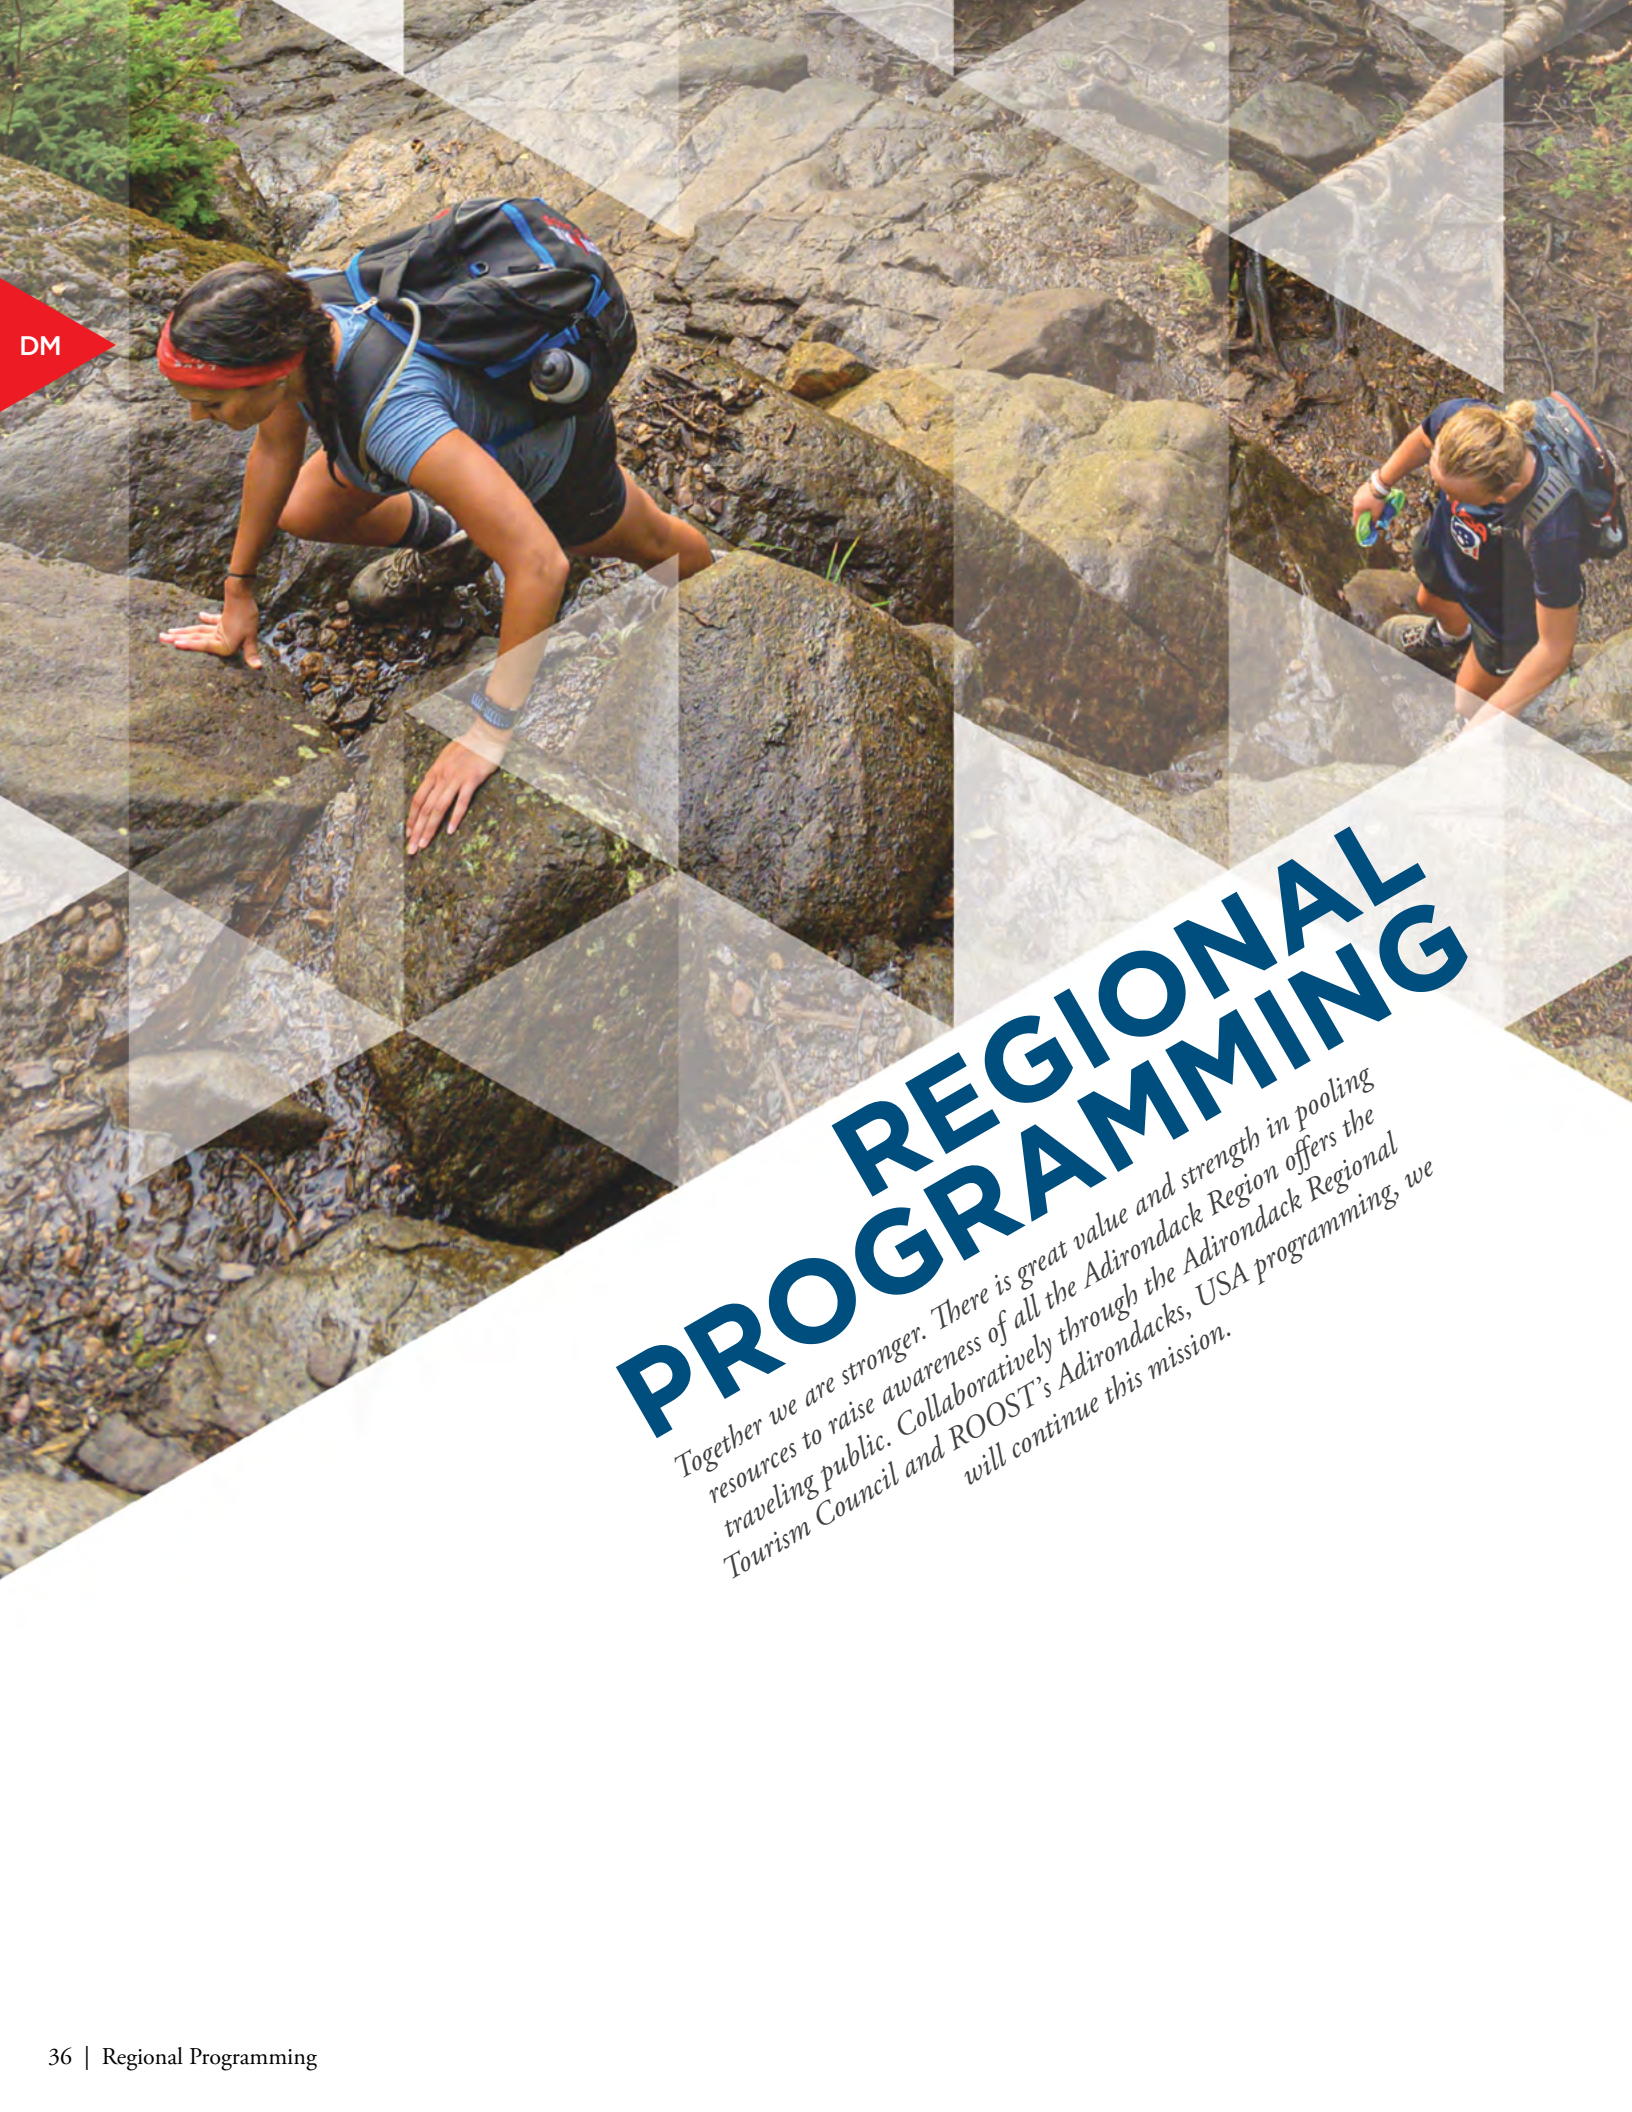

PRINTED GUIDES

While printed guides are no longer used to the scale that they once were — as a fulfillment piece to aid in the research phase of travel — today's traveler still appreciates maps and guides while in the area. ROOST will continue to evaluate the need for and produce a select number of printed materials as needed.

For a detailed outline of the planned print projects for each region, please visit the specific region sections.

SIGNAGE

ROOST has often assisted communities with the development of welcome signage, event information signage, etc. In 2020, as the North Country began to move through the phases of reopening, a need arose for informational signage on the health guidelines and expectations within our communities. ROOST anticipates that in 2021 we will need to continue to evaluate signage needs as they arise, and assist with development on a case-by-case basis.

REGIONAL PROGRAMMING

Together we are stronger. There is great value and strength in pooling resources to raise awareness of all the Adirondack Region offers the traveling public. Collaboratively through the Adirondack Regional Tourism Council and ROOST's Adirondacks, USA programming, we will continue this mission.

ADIRONDACK REGIONAL TOURISM COUNCIL

The Adirondack Regional Tourism Council (ARTC) is made up of the seven counties in the NYS Empire State Development-designated Adirondack Region: Clinton, Essex, Franklin, Hamilton, Lewis, St. Lawrence, and Warren counties. ARTC is overseen by a Board of Directors made up of the Tourism Promotion Agent (TPA) from each of the seven counties. ROOST holds two seats on the ARTC Board:

- Essex County: Mary Jane Lawrence
- Hamilton County: Michelle Clement

Together, ARTC executes the marketing program “Visit Adirondacks.”

ILNY MATCHING FUNDS

The New York State Department of Economic Development has traditionally awarded counties with I Love NY (ILNY) Tourism Matching Funds. The purpose of the I Love NY Matching Funds Program is to provide county funding for the planning and execution of marketing programs designed to stimulate and increase the economic impact of tourism for New York state. All efforts administered using ILNY funds must follow the ILNY Matching Funds requirements. The program also encourages TPAs to participate in regional, multi-county, and thematic-based programs that are aligned with those of the state. Additionally, ILNY encourages TPAs to base their plans on consumer research that identifies marketing opportunities for sustainability and growth.

ROOST has annually applied for and been awarded matching funds on behalf of Essex County and Hamilton County. Once each county has matched their award amount, the funding was used to support the Visit Adirondacks regional program, as well as the Adirondacks, USA supplemental program themes.

In 2020 the ILNY Matching Funds Program was placed in a holding pattern due to budget constraints created by the COVID-19 pandemic and it is unclear as to their status in 2021. Unfortunately, without ILNY funding, the ARTC board has had to make some challenging decisions with regard to the Visit Adirondacks program. As a result, it is anticipated that the Visit Adirondacks program will be continuing to operate on a much scaled back capacity, however the board has prioritized the following action plan to keep the program alive until funding has been stabilized:

- The launch of a new traveler based website at VisitAdirondacks.com. The fresh layout will be focused on helping travelers become acquainted with what the Adirondacks offer and help travelers narrow in on the different destinations within the greater Adirondack region. (Paid in full with 2019 funds.)
- Managing the Visit Adirondacks social media channels by rotating weekly takeover among the 7 counties that make up ARTC.
- ROVE Mobile Tracking Data. (See research and development section.)
- Coordination of a regional email campaign to leads generated through years of collaboration.

THE ADIRONDACKS, USA INITIATIVE

In addition to the ARTC regional program, the Adirondacks, USA initiative provides the flexibility to efficiently pool together resources from 7 ROOST regions in order to have a larger reach and make a greater impact. The Adirondacks, USA programming touches and enhances many aspects of the overall marketing strategy, from PR and communications to content development and email marketing to media placements.

Along with using Adirondacks, USA for general Adirondack awareness and seasonal campaigns, over the years the Adirondacks, USA brand has been leveraged to promote some specific regional themes and priorities. The following section outlines some of these recurring campaigns.

Love Your ADK

LEAVE NO TRACE EDUCATION

Outdoor recreation continues to be a primary tourism driver for the Adirondacks. Like many outdoor destinations, the increased interest and use of our trails, waterways, and backcountry has brought over-use challenges. In an effort to protect these natural resources, educate travellers, and sustain our outdoor recreation economy, ROOST partnered with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, the Adirondack Council, and the Adirondack Mountain Club and together launched the Love Your ADK website and pledge on April 22, 2020. So far 1,000+ people have signed the Love Your ADK Pledge and learned more about Leave No Trace. The pledge and Love Your ADK site will continue to be promoted in 2021 through organic social posts, a display at the Northbound North Hudson High Peaks Rest Area, web banners, emails, and other print and digital materials.

GOALS/PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- Educate travelers on how to minimize their impact on our natural resources.
- Inform travelers on how to be prepared for their backcountry experience.
- Align our efforts with the nationally recognized Leave No Trace Seven Principles.
- Maintain our Community Partnership level with the Leave No Trace Center for Outdoor Ethics.
- Help disperse hikers from high use areas by raising awareness for other great areas to explore and encouraging hikers to have a 'Plan B' in case trailheads are full.

Ski ADK (Ski the Adirondacks)

ALPINE SKIING / CROSS-COUNTRY SKIING

Beginning in the fall of 2017, regional alpine ski mountains started working on a collaborative marketing effort to raise awareness of the quality and availability of the great skiing within the Adirondack Mountains. We started off small with the focus on the consistent use of the hashtag #SkiADK and a small amount of physical in-market advertising such as stickers, banners, and flags.

The following season we began to create a larger awareness of the #SkiADK message with partnerships with Ski Magazine, Powder Magazine, Ski Canada, and a variety of both traditional and digital ad placements. During the 2019-20 ski season, we expanded this program to include Nordic ski areas.

As we move forward in 2021, a continued effort will be placed on building awareness for the #SkiADK message through a collaborative partnership with Adirondack ski areas.

GOALS/PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- Increase awareness of the Adirondacks as a ski destination.
- Promote mid-week skiing/riding.
- Help connect skiers/riders with important information they need to “know before they go.”
- Increase tickets sold at area mountains (Note: this ongoing goal may meet challenges due to capacity restrictions for the 2020-21 season).
- Increase visitation to area Nordic ski centers.
- Generate leads for remarketing.

Adirondack Wayfinder

INSPIRING THE ADIRONDACK ROAD TRIP

Adirondack Wayfinder is a theme-based approach to connecting communities and a tool to help travelers be inspired, dream, and plan. The premise of the program is to create road-based itineraries that are curated based on theme, traveler interests, and/or travel party make-up. The itineraries are mapped, can be modified to start from any address, and can be used for navigation. This allows the tool to follow the traveler from the dreaming phase and research phase through to the experience phase in their travel journey.

In 2020, as New York state navigated from “NY Pause” to the “NY Forward” reopening strategy, so did the demand for safe and “close to home” travel experiences. As a result, in fall 2020, a new and improved Adirondack Wayfinder was launched to help meet that demand by inspiring the Adirondack road trip. For the initial launch, the content was focused around themes and itineraries that were timely for travel in 2020, highlighting outdoor wide-open spaces as well as attractions, businesses, and experiences that were open and could safely accommodate travelers at the time.

In 2021, we look forward to working with our community partners to continue developing itineraries and creating thematic connections. Additionally, we will leverage Adirondack Wayfinder as part of our overall communications strategy to help showcase seasonal offerings that are relevant to media inquiries and pitches.

GOALS/PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- Increase awareness of the Adirondacks as a touring destination.
- Increase visitation to unique amenities and attractions.
- Discover lesser-known communities throughout the region.
- Work with communities and businesses to leverage Adirondack Wayfinder to create and promote thematic tours and itineraries.

Upper Hudson Recreation Hub

THE FIVE TOWNS INITIATIVE

The Upper Hudson Recreation Hub consists of the tourism assets surrounding and including the Essex County towns of Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and the Hamilton County towns of Long Lake and Indian Lake. Several years ago, following the state acquisition of several large tracts of lands within these communities, an alliance was formed. As part of this alliance, these five towns identified the opportunity of combining efforts to market and promote the unique geographical surroundings and world-class recreational experiences the area offers.

Recently, the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub has seen significant commitment from New York state with the construction of the new Frontier Town Campground and Equestrian Center in North Hudson, as well as significant trail build-out over the last several years. Long term, the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub strives to position itself as an interconnected hub of multi-use trails that include activities such as hiking, horseback riding, snowmobiling, and biking.

RECENT UHRH ACHIEVEMENTS

- Rebranding of the two regions that fall within the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub
 - Adirondack Hub (Essex County)
 - Adirondack Experience (Hamilton County)
- Development of a new logo mark for the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub.
- Website design development for the Adirondack Hub and UHRH.
- Relaunched new and improved Adirondack Wayfinder with dedicated section for Upper Hudson Region Hub itineraries.

DM

2021 PROGRAMMING GOALS

- Continue to build awareness of recreational opportunities available in the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub.
- Acquire additional photo and video assets to use for promotional purposes.
- Increase UHRH itineraries on Adirondack Wayfinder that interlink the assets between the five communities.
- Leverage the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub to create cross-promotion campaigns between Essex and Hamilton County.
- Work with our community partners in the 5 Towns to identify ways we can further support their initiative of positioning the region to be an interconnected hub of multi-use trails.

Adirondack Snowmobile App

SNOWMOBILING IN THE ADIRONDACKS

Snowmobiling continues to be a strong activity throughout the Adirondacks. A recent survey of snowmobilers completed by ROOST found that snowmobilers have a higher average income and spend more on average than other leisure travelers per party. Snowmobilers are also very likely to tour multiple communities throughout their stay, spreading their economic impact throughout the Adirondacks. These travel patterns make this demographic a prime target for multi-region campaigns and marketing efforts.

During the 2018-19 snowmobile season GPS data of the snowmobile trails was collected throughout the region. In the fall of 2019 a new snowmobile app was launched to help travelers learn about snowmobiling in the area and navigate the trails/amenities once they are here. In 2020, we invested in making additional upgrades to the app to improve its functionality.

In preparation for the 2020-21 season we have been working with community partners to help create signage and other materials to help connect snowmobilers with the information they need to “know before they go.” In the coming year, a focus will be placed on building awareness of snowmobiling in the area and encouraging users to download the app. Additionally, we will continue to work with community partners to ensure the accuracy of trail and amenity information.

GOALS/PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- Continue to work with community partners to ensure all trail information is accurate and remains up-to-date.
- Increase visitation by snowmobilers.
- Leverage snowmobiling to boost the economy during a slower season.

#ShopADK

SHOP SMALL AND MAKE A BIG IMPACT

Supporting locally-owned businesses is a critical component to building and maintaining vibrant communities. During the 2020 holiday season we introduced the #ShopADK messaging as part of our regional holiday shopping campaign. While the #ShopADK message will extend year-round, the first component focused on holiday shopping with the goal of:

- Supporting community based holiday shopping events hosted by our regional partners.
- Promoting the importance of supporting our local communities by shopping local.
- Highlighting the unique variety of one-of-a-kind gifts and experiences you can find locally this holiday season.

The #ShopADK message was developed strategically so that it could speak to both local community residents, regional residents, and travelers who love the Adirondacks. It is Adirondack focused, and allows a way to promote the “Shop Local” message to all three of these audiences who consider “local” to be a different location based on where they are geographically.

In 2021, the #ShopADK messaging will expand year-round and will continue to focus on the unique retail opportunities. Additionally, we will work to incorporate additional industries such as restaurants.

GOALS/PROGRAMMING NOTES:

- Foster a buy local, support local, state-of-mind in our communities.
- Support community-driven initiatives by regional partners (i.e. Chambers, Business Associations, etc).
- Raise awareness with visitors of the unique shopping and dining opportunities in the Adirondacks.

Politely Adirondack

CONVEYING IMPORTANT INFORMATION IN A KIND, FRIENDLY, AND ADIRONDACK WAY.

In 2020, the “Politely Adirondack” campaign was born from necessity. The goal was to heighten awareness and compliance with the required health and safety protocols (face masks, social distancing, etc.) in a friendly and engaging way. The solution came in the form of the popular “Politely Adirondack” animals.

ROOST has continued to develop signage, digital materials, handouts, and other materials to use throughout the region to create a cohesive message of what is expected when people are in our communities. These resources have been made available to businesses via downloadable resource toolkits and deliveries of printed copies. They have also been updated seasonally and leveraged for community shopping events such as the Community Jumpstart (during initial reopening), and #ShopADK Holiday Edition.

We anticipate that the “Politely Adirondack” campaign will continue to be relevant in 2021 as we continue to navigate through these unique times.

Empire State Winter Games

POSTPONED UNTIL 2022

Each winter, Empire State Winter Games (ESWG) is a multi-day sporting event hosted in Lake Placid, Saranac Lake, Tupper Lake, Wilmington, Brighton, and Paul Smiths. The games bring together athletes from across New York and beyond to compete in over 30 winter sports events.

In 2020, the games celebrated their 40th anniversary as they hosted more than 2,700 athletes of all ages, including master divisions.

We look forward to the return of ESWG in 2022. In the meantime, we intend to keep the spirit of the games alive as we stay connected with the athletes through virtual experiences.

MARKETING REGIONS

ADIRONDACK HUB

SUMMARY

The Adirondack Hub encompasses the communities of Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and Schroon Lake in Essex County. Located in the southern/central Adirondacks, the area makes the perfect launch point for your Adirondack adventure.

HUB

Brand Statement

The Adirondack Hub

A legacy of mountain life is thriving beneath the Adirondacks' towering pines. Visiting our towns is like stepping back in time in a refreshingly nostalgic kind of way. Tucked among our lakes and peaks is a collection of communities that embrace their Adirondack roots while still offering modern amenities. This is a hub of all things Adirondack, and if the quaint shops, vibrant eateries, and diverse arts and culture don't pull you in, the down-to-earth hospitality and endless opportunities for outdoor recreation surely will.

The Adirondack Hub is a central launching point for year-round adventure. The four towns that comprise the hub — Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and Schroon Lake — are easy to get to, and the space between them includes vast tracts of public land. These impressive and beautiful expanses of mountains, forests, and lakes are untouched by human development and waiting to be explored. Instead of billboards, travelers in the Hub will see dozens of iconic brown-and-yellow signs marking trailheads, campgrounds, and boat launches. Within this area, the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub, which also includes the towns of Long Lake and Indian Lake, has extensive offerings. Interconnected trail networks take travelers along gentle terrain to scenic ponds. More adventurous explorers can enjoy easy access to the High Peaks, where they'll find challenging ascents. Boating on one of our numerous lakes is not just encouraged, it's a way of life — but so is sharing a quiet backcountry paddle with a couple of loons. When it's time to come back to civilization a classic Main Street is waiting.

The Adirondack Hub — relax, we'll be here.

TARGET MARKET

The following targeting parameters represent the primary Designated Market Area (DMA) and general travel demographics used for conducting targeted marketing efforts for the Adirondack Hub. NOTE: For some specific topics, additional refinements may be made to the DMA and traveler demographics, as well as targeting based on interests relevant to the topic.

- Primary DMAs
 - Albany-Schenectady-Troy
 - New York City
 - Quebec
- Secondary DMAs
 - Hartford and New Haven, CT
 - Syracuse
 - Utica
- Major interests: travel, adventure travel, family travel, outdoor enthusiasts, outdoor recreation.
- Lower than average interest in 46er hikes shows an opportunity in marketing its proximity to the High Peaks.

Pandemic Travel Restriction

The safety of our residents and travelers remains our highest priority. During this time we have adjusted our target audience to focus on the “regional traveler.” This consists of New York state residents within a 2-3 hour drive of the destination. We will continue to monitor the infection rate via the New York Forward dashboard and adjust accordingly throughout the coming year.

When the time comes that we can safely expand marketing efforts beyond the “regional traveler,” we will review interest based and other demographic priorities at the campaign level from emerging data sources such as Longwoods International, ROVE mobile tracking, and the annual Leisure Travel study to identify any relevant changes in travel patterns.

2021 PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

Region Recovery

In 2021 the focus will remain on cultivating a travel demand that stimulates the economy for Newcomb, North Hudson, Minerva, and Schroon Lake, while keeping the safety of our residents and travelers as the highest priority. As noted in the target audience, during this time the strategy will remain focused on the “regional traveler.”

In March of 2020, “traveler alerts” were added to the top of AdirondackHub.com. Additionally, all facets of our marketing efforts, from emails and social media to seasonal landing pages, link travelers directly to what they need to “know before they go.” This information will remain at the forefront of marketing efforts.

The promotion of the region will remain focused on positioning the region as a destination with activities that are open and available, and align with what travelers are looking for during this time. This will include, but not be limited to, a focus on:

- Brand awareness.
- Outdoor activities. (In particular, alternatives to high use areas.)
- Fresh air and wide-open spaces.
- Road trip itineraries.
- Continued support of businesses including a focus on take-out, curbside pick-up, and other offerings.

Brand Awareness

As a continuation of the 2020 public roll out of the new brand and website for the Adirondack Hub, a focus will remain on educating travelers, locals, and regional residents on what/where the Adirondack Hub is and the unique opportunities the region offers.

Additionally, the success of the brand will only be as strong as the adoption behind it from the communities in the Adirondack Hub. We will continue to work with community leaders, business owners, and other stakeholders on increasing the use of the brand.

First Time Visitor Page

As part of the traveler education process, in 2021 a new “First Time Visitor” page will be created for AdirondackHub.com. This landing page will provide those visiting the website for the first time with easy access to resources that answer basic questions they may have about visiting Newcomb, North Hudson, Minerva, and Schroon Lake. The page is designed to be visually heavy and copy light in order to easily guide the visitor and inspire them to delve deeper into the site. The goal is to connect them quickly to the information they are seeking in order to increase movement through the travel sales funnel.

Upper Hudson Recreation Hub

The Upper Hudson Recreation Hub consists of the tourism assets surrounding and including the Essex County towns of Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and the Hamilton County towns of Long Lake and Indian Lake.

The Upper Hudson Recreation Hub strives to position itself as an interconnected hub of multi-use trails that include activities such as hiking, horseback riding, snowmobiling, and biking. In 2021, we will work with our community partners to continue to build brand awareness for the Adirondack Hub and Upper Hudson Recreation Hub.

See the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub in the Adirondacks, USA Initiatives section for additional details.

Itinerary Building

The Adirondack Hub region will focus on leveraging the newly redeveloped Adirondack Wayfinder to create “trails” to use to promote opportunities in the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub. Additionally, the region will be incorporated into additional itineraries that connect travelers to the greater Adirondack Region – displaying the excellent “gateway” the region makes.

See Adirondack Wayfinder in the Adirondacks, USA Initiatives section for additional details.

A large quantity of photo/video assets have been successfully acquired over the last few years in Newcomb, Schroon Lake, North Hudson, and Minerva. As such, a more streamlined acquisition calendar with a more robust production calendar is possible. The primary photo and video priorities for 2021 are family summer imagery, arts and culture (as they return), and any new developments in the Adirondack Hub. Additionally, a focus will be placed on the acquisition and production of arts and cultural amenities, fall travel, and winter recreation.

Public Relations/Communications

As part of its overall proactive PR and communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure for the Adirondack Hub. The strategy includes developing story pitches, writing press releases, and hosting familiarization tours (FAM) that focus on elevating key messaging that heighten interest in the region.

More specifically, PR pitches and press releases will highlight new developments, seasonal happenings, and unique travel opportunities that differentiate the region. In 2021, we will also continue to focus on aligning the Adirondack Hub as a destination that is positioned to provide travelers with unique opportunities, wide-open outdoor spaces, and limited crowds as we continue to navigate through a time when people are eager to find “safer” travel alternatives.

Region Specific Emails

The email marketing strategy grew considerably in 2020. In addition to the refresh of the Adirondacks, USA weekly email, welcome emails and retargeting emails were added to the email strategy. These new emails are branded specific to the Adirondack Hub region, and are triggered based on the behaviors of people visiting AdirondackHub.com.

In 2021, a targeted email strategy will include sending segmented interest-based emails directly from the Adirondack Hub. These interests are determined by both the information provided when someone signs up for an email, as well as the content they engage with once they have signed up.

Additionally, the “Adirondack Hub Insider” emails will continue to be a way to reach locals to disseminate information about events and other happenings in the region. During the COVID-19 pandemic the “Insider” also became an effective way to share important information about business offerings, COVID-19 testing sites, and other important information for locals. As a result, the lists saw increased growth during this period and we will continue to leverage this tool for the foreseeable future.

Community Engagement

Strong community outreach, engagement, and communication is a critical component to successful strategy development and implementation for the Adirondack Hub. In 2020, ROOST designated a regional representative to be the liaison between ROOST and the region in order to increase communication efficiencies. In 2021, we look forward to continuing to build relationships with our community leaders and business partners in order to enhance efforts throughout the region.

REFERENCE: GENERAL TOPIC DESCRIPTION

The following is a list of topics that have been outlined and refined over years of community collaboration developing marketing priorities for the region. While the weight of promotion of these priorities will need to be flexible to accommodate the impacts of travel restrictions and business operations, the topics themselves will not change. As a result, this list will continue to be referenced on a regular basis as we outline the specific seasonal campaigns.

Arts and Culture

Home to the oldest summer vocal training program in the nation, travelers in the Adirondack Hub can enjoy professionally staged theater performances, lakeside music, and community dances. Additionally, events, art studios, interactive classes, and unique dining experiences throughout the region provide a unique balance of cultural activities to complement the outdoor activities.

Camping

Together the communities of Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and Schroon Lake are home to both public and private campgrounds, RV sites, primitive campsites, and even glamping sites. When it comes to camping, the Adirondack Hub provides campers with the amenities they desire to make their campsite a basecamp for memorable Adirondack adventures.

Cross-country Skiing

The woods and mountains of the Adirondack Hub are home to cross-country ski trails that offer both short out-and-back trips and longer full-day excursions. There are hundreds of miles of trails to choose from that are part of large trail networks in wilderness areas.

Events

From live music and art talks to nature walks, events and activities provide unique experiences for travelers. Larger events include, but are not limited to: Teddy Roosevelt Days, the Folk Music Festival, the Adirondack Marathon Distance Festival, Olde Tyme Christmas Celebration, Ice Fishing Derby, and Newcomb Winterfest. These events provide a variety of specific experiences for travelers to take part in.

Fall Travel

Autumn is a spectacular time for travelers to experience the Adirondack Hub. The roads connecting the communities of Minerva, Newcomb, North Hudson, and Schroon Lake are great for leaf-peeping and touring. Outdoor activities continue to be a draw for travelers who want to experience the outstanding and uncrowded trails, lakes, and rivers of the region. Attractions also continue to provide unique fall experiences for travelers.

Family Travel

The Adirondack Hub provides travelers with the ideal basecamp for their family getaway to the Adirondacks. Natural and historic attractions supply families with unique activities and learning experiences. Evenings serve up family dining experiences, outdoor music, square dancing, or simply the opportunity to slow down and connect around the campfire.

Hiking

Discover an array of hiking options for all levels of outdoor adventurers. Some of these unique opportunities include, but are not limited to: southern (less populated) access to the High Peaks, exploration of the Pharaoh Lake Wilderness Area, and new hiking such as the trail to Boreas Ponds.

Horseback Riding

In addition to being the home of the newly opened Frontier Town Campground, Equestrian and Day Use Area, the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub has a growing network of equestrian-friendly trails. These trails include, but are not limited to: Boreas Ponds, Great Camp Santanoni, the Essex Chain Lakes Complex, and new multi-use trails connected directly to Frontier Town. Future developments are aimed to further position the Adirondack Hub as a premier destination for horseback riding.

Lake Life

In summer, life in the hamlet of Schroon Lake is centered around the lake itself, which provides many family-friendly opportunities for boating, paddling, water sports, fishing, and swimming. The public beach is always a popular sunny spot for travelers of all ages. Motels and cottage rentals provide travelers with a slice of lakefront living, while historic Main Street's shops and restaurants are within walking distance of the lake and many lodging options.

Outdoor Recreation

No matter the season, the Adirondack Hub provides the perfect launching point for your outdoor adventure. In the warmer months, visitors enjoy hiking, biking, horseback riding, fishing, swimming, and water activities throughout the region. As the colder weather sets in, these activities morph into snowy favorites including snowshoeing, skiing, ice fishing, and snowmobiling.

Snowmobiling

The Adirondack Hub is a winter sports paradise, featuring hundreds of miles of both groomed and backcountry trails, perfect for exploring for days or simply an afternoon. Whether the traveler is looking for a short loop, or a day trip throughout some of the communities of the Upper Hudson Recreation Hub, the conditions and scenery won't disappoint.

Watersports

The lakes, ponds, and rivers of the Adirondack Hub provide ample opportunities for water sports of all speeds. Whether the traveler is interested in a quiet, backwoods paddle, or a day on the lake, the Hub has plenty of options, including the expansive Essex Chain Lakes, Hudson River, Schroon Lake, and Boreas Ponds Tract.

Lake Champlain
REGION

LAKE CHAMPLAIN REGION

SUMMARY

Together, the charming Essex County towns of Chesterfield, Willsboro, Essex, Lewis, Elizabethtown, Westport, Moriah/Port Henry, Crown Point, and Ticonderoga make up the breathtaking Lake Champlain Region. The lake, history, and touring continue to be the primary drivers for the region; however, the emergence of agritourism experiences and the flourishing arts and cultural amenities provide exciting opportunities for growth.

2020 saw its share of challenges; however, we are optimistic for the coming year and look to leverage the region's scenic beauty, rich history, and unique attractions to position the region as an excellent travel alternative. Additionally, the addition and expansion of biking venues, both road cycling and mountain biking, offers an opportunity to attract a new traveler audience to the Lake Champlain Area.

We look forward to continuing to build relationships with community leaders, business owners, and residents in the Lake Champlain Region in order to support on-the-ground initiatives to advance the region in the coming year.

Pandemic Travel Restriction

The safety of our residents and travelers remains our highest priority. During this time we have adjusted our target audience to focus on the “regional traveler.” This consists of New York state residents within a 2-3 hour drive of the destination. We will continue to monitor the infection rate via the New York Forward dashboard and adjust accordingly throughout the coming year.

When the time comes that we can safely expand marketing efforts beyond the “regional traveler,” we will review interest based and other demographic priorities at the campaign level from emerging data sources such as Longwoods International, ROVE mobile tracking, and the annual Leisure Travel study to identify any relevant changes in travel patterns.

2021 PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

Region Recovery

In 2021, the focus will remain on cultivating a travel demand that stimulates the Lake Champlain Region economy while keeping the safety of our residents and travelers as the highest priority. As noted in the target audience, during this time the strategy will remain focused on the “regional traveler.”

In March of 2020, “traveler alerts” were added to the top of LakeChamplainRegion.com. Additionally, all facets of our marketing efforts, from emails and social media to seasonal landing pages, link travelers directly to what they need to “know before they go.” This information will remain at the forefront of marketing efforts.

The promotion of the region will remain focused on positioning the region as a destination with activities that are open and available, and align with what travelers are looking for during this time. This will include, but not be limited to a focus on:

- Outdoor activities (fishing, hiking, biking, attractions, etc.).
- Historic sites and agriculture opportunities (as available).
- Supporting new developments such as those at Fort Ticonderoga and mountain biking in Elizabethtown.
- Scenic road trip itineraries.
- Continued support of business including a focus on take-out, curbside pick-up, and other offerings.

First Time Visitor Page

In 2021, a first time visitor page will be created for LakeChamplainRegion.com. This landing page will provide those visiting the website for the first time with easy access to resources that answer basic questions they may have about visiting the Lake Champlain Region. The page is designed to be visually heavy and copy light in order to easily guide the visitor and inspire them to delve deeper into the site. The goal is to connect them quickly to the information they are seeking in order to increase movement through the travel sales funnel.

Region Specific Emails

The email marketing strategy grew considerably in 2020. In addition to the refresh of the Adirondacks, USA weekly email, welcome emails and retargeting emails were added to the email strategy. These new emails are branded specific to the Lake Champlain Region, and are triggered based on the behaviors of people visiting LakeChamplainRegion.com.

Additionally, the “Lake Champlain Region Insider” emails will continue to be a way to reach locals to disseminate information about events and other happenings in the region. During the COVID-19 pandemic the “Insider” also became an effective way to share important information about business offerings, COVID-19 testing sites, and other important information for locals. As a result, the lists saw increased growth during this period and we will continue to leverage this tool for the foreseeable future.

One of the primary draws of the Lake Champlain Region is its scenic beauty. A large quantity of photo/video assets have been successfully acquired over the last few years to highlight that aspect of the region. Photo and video acquisition for the Lake Champlain Region has been prioritized for: our individual farms and agritourism activities, arts and cultural attractions, and sailing/on-the-water experience. Having more diversity in the image collection for the Lake Champlain Region is a top priority in 2021.

Public Relations/Communications

As part of its overall proactive PR and communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure for the Lake Champlain Region. The strategy includes developing story pitches, writing press releases, and hosting familiarization tours (FAM) that focus on elevating key messaging that heighten interest in the region.

More specifically, PR pitches and press releases will highlight new developments, seasonal happenings, and unique travel opportunities that differentiate the region. In 2021, we will also continue to pitch journalists interested in covering the topics of cycling, agritourism, U.S. history, and fishing.

Develop Brand Statement

In the coming year, a priority has been placed on developing a positioning or brand statement for the Lake Champlain Region. The purpose of this project will be to create a consistent tone and message for conveying to the world what the Lake Champlain Region is all about. This will be accomplished through a collaborative effort between all stakeholders - community leaders, business owners (tourism and non-tourism), and local residents. This new statement will help direct the message in all future promotional efforts.

Visitor Services

The Regional Office of Sustainable Tourism maintains a satellite office at the Crown Point Bridge. In addition to being a professional space for ROOST, the location houses the Lake Champlain Visitors Center. Staff helps keep shelves stocked with informational materials, answers phone calls, and provides a warm welcome to visitors that stop into the information center.

Events Support

While events saw a major setback in 2020 and are projected to continue to be on pause into 2021, ROOST is committed to working with the community and the various event organizers to ensure events have a strong return.

- Managing a comprehensive events calendar for the Lake Champlain Region and the related “Lake Champlain Region” Insider email.
- Annually ROOST supports fishing tournaments on the lake and assists the annual Adirondack Harvest Festival and Essex County Fair with marketing.
- ROOST maintains a fund to support marketing efforts to bring overnight visitors to communities hosting events within the Lake Champlain Region. Funds must be used for marketing efforts only and not for operational expense. Funding support is requested via application and is distributed on a first come, first served basis.
- To support businesses in 2020, ROOST initiated efforts such as the “Community Jumpstart” and #ShopADK to help raise awareness of business offerings and more.

Supporting New Developments

The Lake Champlain Region has a variety of exciting new developments underway. ROOST is honored to have the opportunity to focus on and support these advancements.

AGRITOURISM

New farms, growers, and producers continue to pop up throughout the region; preserving our varied landscape and making more and more farm-fresh foods readily available. As interest in agritourism experiences continues to grow, so does the energy of the agriculture-focused movers and shakers in the Lake Champlain Region. Working with partners such as Hub on the Hill, Adirondack Harvest Festival, regional farmers, etc., we look to increase awareness of unique agritourism experiences. These activities pair well with other tourism drivers such as history and cycling, with the potential for increasing visitation and length of stay in the region.

CHAMPLAIN AREA TRAILS

CATS has acquired the 35-acre Essex Quarry with plans to develop the Essex Quarry Nature Park, ideally located close to the historic hamlet of Essex and the Essex-Charlotte Ferry. Plans include completion of hiking and skiing trails, and interpretation of this limestone woodland, history of the quarry, and the site's geology.

EMPIRE STATE TRAIL

Work is being completed on the new Empire State Trail. This 750-mile multi-use trail extends from Manhattan north to the Canadian border in Rouses Point, near the northern tip of Lake Champlain, and also from Buffalo to Albany. Going directly through the Lake Champlain Region, the trail holds particular appeal to road cyclists.

FORT TICONDEROGA

Work is underway toward the completion of the restoration of the Pavilion, the former Pell family summer estate on the grounds of Fort Ticonderoga. This restoration will include an adaptive reuse of the National Historic Landmark, making it accessible to the public and includes meeting and event space, including weddings, a catering kitchen, a cafe, and exhibition space.

MOUNTAIN BIKING IN ELIZABETHTOWN

Mountain biking continues to grow in both popularity and miles of trails in Essex County. Elizabethtown is currently home to two trail networks, the Blueberry Hill and Otis Mountain trails, but local riders and community advocates are planning on a large expansion. The "Elizabethtown Mt. Bike and Climbers Ranch" will add approximately 325 acres of access, and when completed it has the potential to put Elizabethtown on the map as a top mountain biking destination.

TOWN OF MORIAH CAMPGROUND

The town of Moriah added two rental cabins to their Bulwagga Bay Campground and RV Resort property in 2020. Additional plans include other restorations and amenity additions as well as developing a new rack card/brochure stand to further promote both town-owned campgrounds and publicly accessible waterfront property.

WHALLONSBURG GRANGE

The grange acquired the adjacent property known as Whitcomb's Garage. The garage has been reclaimed and rehabilitated to serve as a boost to local small businesses creating craftsmen/artisan studios and retail space. A 1.5-acre lawn at Whitcomb's overlooks the Boquet River and will serve as an outdoor music, theater, and event space.

Itinerary Building

As the popularity and demand for "close-to-home" road tripping continues, in 2021 the focus will continue on leveraging the newly redeveloped Adirondack Wayfinder to create "trails" that showcase the beauty, rich history, and unique attractions in the Lake Champlain Region. Additionally, Adirondack Wayfinder provides the opportunity to connect the Lake Champlain Region to the greater Adirondacks via thematic trails and itineraries.

See Adirondack Wayfinder in the Adirondacks, USA Initiatives section for additional details.

REFERENCE: GENERAL TOPIC DESCRIPTION

The following is a list of topics that have been outlined and refined over years of community collaboration developing marketing priorities for the region. While the weight of promotion of these priorities will need to be flexible to accommodate the impacts of travel restrictions and business operations, the topics themselves will not change. As a result, this list will continue to be referenced on a regular basis as we outline the specific seasonal campaigns.

Agritourism

Small farms are blossoming around the Champlain Valley, offering organic, locally-produced meats, vegetables, dairy products, and baked and preserved goods. The Hub on the Hill serves as a year-round retail market, many farms offer farm stands directly on-site, and farmers markets are plentiful during the growing season. Some farms offer tours (via Adirondack Architectural Heritage) or invite public visitation during pre-planned events. More area restaurants are offering farm-to-table, with DaCy Meadow Farm and Fort Ticonderoga offering food that is grown and/or raised on-site. Two breweries, Ledge Hill and Ausable, make use of local products. Crown Point Farm and Dairy (slated to open in 2021) will join North Country Creamery in offering cheeses and fresh dairy products in the region. Gunnison Orchards produces apples for the commercial market, offers pick-your-own apples and berries in season, as well as on-site baked goods, and fresh garden produce grown on-site. The Essex County Fair and Adirondack Harvest Festival offer opportunities to see the region's abundance of locally grown, raised, and produced food in one collective event.

Arts and Culture

The Lake Champlain Region boasts both professional (Depot Theatre) and amateur (Essex Theatre Company and Boquet River Theatre Festival) theatre performances, world-class concerts and musical performances (Ballard Park Concerts, Meadowmount, Ti Festival Guild), and numerous art galleries. Adirondack architecture is promoted and preserved by AARCH and its many regional tours. The Star Trek Original Series Set Tour and special events like Trekonderoga attract new audiences. The Whallonsburg Grange Hall, a performing arts and community center in Essex, expanded their venue in 2020 to include a greenspace and a transformation of the adjacent Whitcomb's Garage and property. This transformation opened the door for small business studios and retail space for a blacksmith and woodworker, with room and plans for expansion. The acquisition of the greenspace allowed for some open-air/Spaced Out Summer (SOS) events under a large tent during the summer months while the Grange Hall itself remained closed due to COVID-19.

Birding

The Lake Champlain Region is on the Atlantic Flyway for major spring and fall migration. The Lake Champlain Birding Trail, hailed as one of the country's top five, has established several key public access sites within the region for birders. Late winter months are popular for birders to spot unusual Arctic species that make their way south to this region, and occasionally a rare sighting is experienced on the lake. Crown Point State Historic Site, a key location along the Lake Champlain Birding Trail, offers guided birding hikes and hosts the Crown Point Bird Banding Station for two weeks every May.

Events

In a typical year, a diverse selection of events throughout the region pack the weekends in summer and fall. Several communities host multi-day Independence Day celebrations. History and heritage events, encampments, reenactments, and festivals are hosted by several communities, the region's three historic landmarks, and many area museums. Numerous events focus on the harvest throughout the growing season. Concerts, theatre, architectural tours, presentations, and exhibit openings abound, and are often held midweek. While the pandemic forced some cancellations in 2020, others creatively social distanced in the region's abundant outdoor space or went virtual. We look forward to supporting regional events as they return.

Fall Travel

All aspects of spring and summer outdoor recreation — cycling, golfing, hiking, paddling — are available in cooler weather with a spectacular, colorful backdrop. Fall birding begins during the migration and the big game hunting season begins. Fall harvest items like squash, pumpkins, root vegetables, and apples are plentiful at farmers markets. Crisp, clear days permit greater visibility at scenic overlooks. Autumn festivals are plentiful, including Adirondack Harvest Festival, Heritage Harvest & Horse Festival at Fort Ticonderoga, and Applefolkfest.

History

Centuries and layers of history permeate this region as part of America's interconnected waterways; from early Native Americans through significant military history (French and Indian, Revolutionary, and 1812 wars), to America's early settlement, transportation, and development. The region boasts numerous historic sites and museums that each tell a specific story about America's — and the region's — past. The region is home to significant National Historic Landmarks at Fort Ticonderoga and Crown Point State Historic Site that offer a connection to the past for today's visitors through detailed interpretation and living history demonstrations and events.

Fishing

Known as one of the nation's top sportfishing lakes, Lake Champlain draws numerous bass fishing tournaments June through September. Kayak fishing is becoming an increasingly popular sport. Sport anglers also seek lake trout and freshwater salmon during the spring, fall, and winter months. Ice fishing is a popular sport when conditions permit. Numerous public launches are available for those with a boat; guides and some public fishing areas offer the experience for those without. Putnam Creek accommodates trout fishermen and the Essex County Fish Hatchery stocks many Essex County water bodies and allows families to learn about several trout species.

Golf

The region offers several options for golfers, from welcoming, 9-hole community courses to historic championship 18-hole courses, all set amidst the incredibly scenic backdrops of the Adirondack Mountains and majestic Lake Champlain. The 100-year-old Westport Golf Course is widely considered one of the best golf courses in the Adirondacks, and the picturesque Ticonderoga Golf Course is nestled in the scenic and historic Lord Howe Valley. Ticonderoga Golf anticipates a grand opening of the newly rebuilt clubhouse in 2021 that will include a well-appointed year-round restaurant.

Hiking

The Lake Champlain Region offers a trail for every interest and ability, creating the perfect destination for families with outdoor interests. Champlain Area Trails has 87 easy to moderate trails totaling more than 200 miles in its collection, and this organization adds more annually. There are a multitude of opportunities to connect with nature and enjoy the region's scenic beauty. Some trails are challenging, some connect communities, while others offer incredible vistas.

Mountain Biking

Elizabethtown is quickly becoming the fastest growing area for mountain biking in the Adirondacks. Emerging mountain biking opportunities include Chasm Trails, Blueberry Hill Trails, Otis Mountain, Dirt Church, and the Thursday Night Group Ride. A potential connection between the Blueberry Hill Trails and Otis Mountain, as well as tentative development of a mountain biking "ranch" with community connections creates the opportunity for Elizabethtown to become an Adirondack mountain biking mecca. Fat tire biking on these trails during the winter months expands the season. Most are very family-friendly, and a few are fully accessible trails.

Road Cycling

Rolling hills and scenic beauty draw vacationing cyclists from around the world. The Lake Champlain Region is home to the Adirondack Coast Bikeways, a collection of 14 cycling-themed routes, and a significant link along the Lake Champlain Bikeway's 363-mile route around Lake Champlain. The newly developed Empire State Trail will also encourage road cyclists to come to this region. Lodging properties love catering to traveling cyclists, and most offer bicycle-friendly accommodations and amenities.

Water Sports

Lake Champlain accommodates every aspect of boating, and its many protected bays suit all levels of paddlers. Numerous public boat launches and marinas are available for those with a boat; canoe and kayak rentals are available for those without. Options for guided boat tours are available at Fort Ticonderoga and the Lake Champlain Maritime Museum (located in Vermont), both anticipated to return in 2021. Special event boat tours are occasionally available from the Port Henry or Westport marinas. Sail Adirondacks began offering sailing excursions, specialty cruises, and “Learn to Sail” adventures out of Port Henry Marina in 2020, expanding the opportunities in the region for an on-the-water experience. Boaters can connect to the Atlantic Ocean via Chambly Canal, and Richelieu and St. Lawrence rivers to the north; Champlain Canal and Hudson River to the south. Canadian visitors arriving via water are expected to return once cross border travel is restored. There are three options for ferries in the summer months (one available year-round) that also provide an opportunity to get out on the water. Numerous ponds with public access offer paddlers additional options beyond the big lake.

Winter Recreation

The region offers many diverse opportunities for winter recreation. Snowshoeing and hiking are available on all CATS trails, and many are suitable for cross-country skiing when there is adequate snow cover. Crown Point State Historic Site welcomes snowshoers and cross-country skiers, and offers a marked but ungroomed trail. Cobble Hill Golf Course also welcomes cross-country skiers. Should ice conditions permit, Poke-O-Moonshine Mountain becomes a favorite destination for ice climbers. Winter also frequently offers unsurpassed Nordic skating on Lake Champlain. Visitors are welcomed at Ausable Chasm throughout the winter, and can be outfitted and guided for specific conditions. Fat tire biking is welcomed at Blueberry Hill Trails and Otis Mountain, with miles of challenging trails to explore.

LAKE PLACID

2021 PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

Region Recovery

In 2021 the focus will remain on cultivating a travel demand that stimulates the Lake Placid economy while keeping the safety of our residents and travelers as the highest priority. As noted in the target audience, during this time the strategy will remain focused on the “regional traveler.”

In March of 2020, “traveler alerts” were added to the top of LakePlacid.com. Additionally, all facets of our marketing efforts, from emails and social media to seasonal landing pages, link travelers directly to what they need to “know before they go.” A large focus was also placed on making sure in-market signage, handouts, and other resources helped ensure that expectations within the community were communicated. This information will remain at the forefront of marketing efforts.

The promotion of the region will remain focused on positioning the area as a destination with activities that are open and available, and align with what travelers are looking for during this time. This will include, but not be limited to, a focus on:

- Outdoor activities
 - Skiing, snowshoeing, hiking, biking, golf, watersports, outdoor attractions, etc.
 - Focus on Leave No Trace principles.
- Fresh air, wide-open spaces.
- New developments (Olympic Venues, new business and amenity developments).
- Road trip itineraries.
- Continued support of business including a focus on take-out, curbside pick-up, and other offerings.

First Time Visitor Page

In 2021, a first time visitor page will be created for LakePlacid.com. This landing page will provide those visiting the website for the first time with easy access to resources that answer basic questions they may have about visiting Lake Placid. The page is designed to be visually heavy and copy light in order to easily guide the visitor and inspire them to delve deeper into the site. The goal is to connect them quickly to the information they are seeking in order to increase their move through the travel sales funnel.

Region Specific Emails

The email marketing strategy grew considerably in 2020. In addition to the refresh of the Adirondacks, USA weekly email, welcome emails and retargeting emails were added to the email strategy. These new emails are branded specific to Lake Placid, and are triggered based on the behaviors of people visiting LakePlacid.com.

In 2021, a targeted email strategy will include sending segmented interest-based emails directly from Lake Placid. These interests are determined by both the information provided when someone signs up for an email as well as the content they engage with once they have signed up.

Additionally, the “Lake Placid Insider” emails will continue to be a way to reach locals to disseminate information about events and other happenings in the region. During the COVID-19 pandemic the “Insider” also became an effective way to share important information about business offerings, COVID-19 testing sites, and other important information for locals. As a result, the lists saw increased growth during this period and we will continue to leverage this tool for the foreseeable future.

As we continue to build a library of photo and video assets to showcase the Lake Placid/High Peaks Region, a priority has been placed on developing a more diverse library of images. This will be accomplished by pairing our media team with influencers and ambassadors who share an affection for the activities and amenities of the Adirondacks, and are part of and speak to a diverse audience. Additionally, we will focus on increasing photos for Main Street experiences, the new developments at the Olympic Venues (showcasing all seasons) including spring skiing at the new Midway Lodge at Whiteface, and highlighting areas where people can disperse to experience wide-open spaces.

Throughout the year we will also continue to focus on working with our partners at Travel Unity on increasing diversity representation.

Public Relations/Communications

As part of its overall proactive PR and communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure for the Lake Placid Region. The strategy includes developing story pitches, writing press releases, and hosting familiarization tours (FAM) that focus on elevating key messaging that heighten interest in the region.

More specifically, PR pitches and press releases will highlight new developments, seasonal happenings, and unique travel opportunities that differentiate the region. In 2021, we will continue to seek partnerships with travel writers and journalists that are looking to share their passion for the outdoors and are able to showcase Lake Placid's perfect balance of nature and amenities with their audience. A focus will also be placed on showcasing the new developments at the Olympic facilities and highlighting best practices for outdoor recreation.

Additionally, we will target family travel writers and build relationships with travel writers that speak to a diverse audience.

High Peaks/Leave No Trace

Outdoor recreation continues to be one of the primary tourism drivers for the Lake Placid Region. The High Peaks, in particular, have seen a significant increase in use in recent years. ROOST has been and will remain committed to working with regional partners to protect these public lands and the impact it has on the surrounding communities by promoting sustainable recreation.

In 2020, in partnership with the Adirondack Mountain Club, the Adirondack Council, and the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC), the Love Your ADK campaign was launched. This was just one of many efforts focused on educating travelers on Leave No Trace principles, as well as helping elevate the challenges that come with the increased use of particular hiking trails. (See Love Your ADK section under Adirondacks, USA initiatives for more details)

In 2021, ROOST will continue to leverage the Love Your ADK campaign to promote the importance of hiker preparedness and positive outdoor stewardship. Meanwhile, there will be an ongoing focus to work with our local community leaders, outdoor recreation partners, and the High Peaks Advisory Group to mitigate challenges in the short term, while a long term plan for the High Peaks is developed and implemented.

Event Support

While events saw a major setback in 2020 and are projected to continue to be on pause into 2021, ROOST is committed to working with the community and the various event organizers to hit the ground running to ensure events have a strong return. Some of the support we have provided for events in the Lake Placid in the past includes:

- Managing a comprehensive events calendar on LakePlacid.com and the related "Lake Placid Insider" email.
- Lake Placid Ironman volunteer coordination.
- Planning and execution assistance for the Holiday Village Stroll, Lake Placid 4th of July Celebration, Community Day, and a variety of other community-driven events.
- Support for Lake Placid Summit Lacrosse, Can-Am Rugby, etc.
- ROOST maintains a fund to support marketing efforts to bring overnight visitors to communities hosting events within the Lake Placid Region. Funds must be used for marketing efforts only and not for operational expense. Funding support is requested via application and is distributed on a first come, first served basis.
- Raising awareness of events through content writing, photo/video support, social media, and targeted ad placement for other larger tourism driving events.

See "events" in the General Topic Description section for additional details.

Perfecting Placid

Lake Placid will soon be even more perfect! The work being completed to make Lake Placid even more perfect is both necessary and exciting! Some of the projects were identified as a result of the upcoming 2023 World University Games. Other projects were identified as necessary to sustain the unique beauty of our village and Mirror Lake, while upgrading Main Street's walkability. We will be working, in coordination with our state and local partners, to communicate in real time to community members and travelers what they can expect during this time.

2023 WORLD UNIVERSITY GAMES

The organization of the games continues. Working closely with New York state and the Olympic Regional Development Authority, the Adirondack SPORTS Council's Organizing Committee is moving forward in all organizational areas. A new logo, website, and mascot will be launched in the spring of 2021. Broadcast partners and the sponsorship program will also roll out in 2021. The games are scheduled for January 12 - 22, 2023 with over 2,500 athletes and officials, and more than 50 nations competing in 13 different sports. (www.lakeplacid2023.com)

MAIN STREET CONSTRUCTION

In the spring of 2021, the proposed Lake Placid Main Street Improvement Project will begin. A focus will be placed on mitigating and alleviating the inconveniences anticipated for travelers, local residents, and businesses throughout the lifetime of the project. This will include, but not be limited to:

- Working with the Village of Lake Placid and other entities to ensure timely and accurate sharing of project information to Main Street businesses, community residents, and travelers.
- Encouraging travelers and community residents to continue to patronize Main Street businesses.
- Work with Main Street merchants on creative promotions to encourage business during this time.
- Coordinating with the Village of Lake Placid and other entities to assist with mitigating inconveniences.
- Providing in-market information to travelers on detours and parking.

OLYMPIC VENUE CONSTRUCTION

Additionally, construction will continue at the Olympic Venues in 2021. The New York State Olympic Authority has been working on several upgrades in 2020 to Whiteface Mountain, the Olympic Jumping complex, Mount Van Hoevenberg, and will begin construction on the Olympic Center in 2021. We will promote all of the exciting new features at these Olympic venues.

DESTINATION MANAGEMENT PLAN

We have initiated the process of pursuing a Destination Management plan for Lake Placid/North Elba. This initiative will create a vision on how the community can plan its physical, social, and cultural attributes and assets to create a stronger sense of place, and develop an overall positioning and implementation strategy for the future of the visitor economy.

LEAF (LOCAL ENHANCEMENT AND ADVANCEMENT FUND)

In 2020, we completed a three year process of developing a perpetual and dedicated fund for community and tourism enhancements paid for by visitors. This fund should provide an estimated $1 million annually for North Elba programming. A committee will vet applications for final approval by North Elba Town Board.

COMMUNITY HOUSING PROJECTS

MacKenzie Overlook

Starting in 2019 and continuing into 2021, this is an initiative with the HCR affordable housing project that will provide 60 units, totaling 80 bedrooms, within walking distance of downtown.

The Peaks

This project is to cultivate long-term community housing at the former Cell Science Center. These units will serve as an Athletes' Village for the 2023 World University Games and then, post games, long-term community housing.

Town of Keene

In 2020, we assisted the Town of Keene with the development of a new website. In 2021, we will continue to assist the community with the initial content additions and training on long term site maintenance. Additionally, we will remain focused on cultivating sustainable tourism, educating travelers on Leave No Trace principles, and helping navigate the challenges that come with the increased use of particular hiking trails.

Community Engagement

ROOST COMMUNITY OUTREACH COMMITTEE

ROOST and community members joined together in 2020 to create this committee with the purpose of better understanding the wants and needs of residents. Committee members are an assembly of residents representing schools, public organizations, retail, food and beverage, and the non-tourism related work force. This committee directly influenced the “Community Jump Start” initiative, 4th of July Celebration, and Halloween. We look forward to continuing to work with this committee as we navigate through 2021.

ORGANIZATION COLLABORATION

Having strong partnerships is a critical component to continuing to advance Lake Placid as both a vibrant community and a must-visit destination. ROOST is proud to collaborate and engage with a variety of organizations throughout the community. Some of these committees include the Lake Placid Business Association (LPBA), Arts Alliance, the Appearance Committee, the Development Commission, and the Olympic Regional Development Authority (ORDA). In 2021, we look forward to continuing to work with these partners to support their initiatives.

Conferences

COVID-19 has had a significant impact on group and conference business in 2020. In addition, the anticipated Olympic Center construction in 2021/2022 has limited the availability of town-wide conferences. In 2021 our sales team will be focusing on supporting hotel group business, unique group travel, and securing contracts for large town-wide conferences in 2023.

REFERENCE: GENERAL TOPIC DESCRIPTION

The following is a list of topics that have been outlined and refined over years of community collaboration developing marketing priorities for the region. While the weight of promotion of these priorities will need to be flexible to accommodate the impacts of travel restrictions and business operations, the topics themselves will not change. As a result, this list will continue to be referenced on a regular basis as we outline the specific seasonal campaigns.

Arts and Culture

The Lake Placid Region is proving to be a destination for arts and culture, with performances, shows, and concerts throughout the year. The Lake Placid Center for the Arts brings in many national acts and consistently offers cultural experiences to locals and travelers. There are art galleries on and off of Main Street featuring paintings, photography, and artisan crafts. There are weekly concerts of national and regional acts throughout the summer in Mid's Park downtown. The Sinfonietta adds to the cultural experience with "The Orchestra of the Adirondacks" during the summer months. Events centered around the arts such as the Lake Placid Film Festival and ballets are growing each year. Lake Placid offers a wide range of arts and culture amenities that complement the traveler experience. The historic Palace Theater is typically open year-round, with the latest movies on multiple screens. The Lake Placid History Museum highlights fascinating local history and hosts special events.

Dining

The Lake Placid Region has award-winning restaurants, breweries, and chefs. Studies show that millennials consider where they are eating as much as where they are staying when planning a trip. In 2021, we will continue to focus on supporting the restaurant industry as we navigate through the challenges of operating at reduced capacity and other factors associated with the pandemic. Additionally, we will showcase the hidden gems in the region, and unique and creative alterations being made to accommodate patrons during this time.

Events

Traditionally, the Lake Placid Region boasts a diverse and robust event schedule. Every year, Lake Placid is host to world-class sporting events such as Lake Placid Ironman, World Cup bobsled, luge, and skeleton races, the Lake Placid and I Love NY Horse Shows, Summit Lacrosse, Can-Am Rugby, Empire State Winter Games, and Can/Am Hockey, to name a few. Additionally, Lake Placid has a unique variety of arts and cultural events such as the Songs at Mirror Lake series, Lake Placid Sinfonietta, and recurring farmers markets in Keene and Lake Placid. Family-friendly events including the I Love BBQ Fest and Lake Placid Holiday Village Stroll make Lake Placid a perfect destination for everyone.

Holiday Season

When it comes to the holiday season, the Lake Placid Region is an iconic winter wonderland. Enjoy outdoor activities such as ice skating, dog sled rides, and skiing (alpine and Nordic), then cozy up next to a fire, and enjoy roasting marshmallows and eating s'mores. The opportunities to make holiday memories are plentiful in Lake Placid. Additionally, seasonal events and activities such as a visit to Santa's Workshop, the Lake Placid Holiday Village Stroll, the Holiday Fun Zone, and Santa Ski Day provide additional incentives to visit Lake Placid and invent your perfect holiday.

Fall Travel

Fall foliage, festivals, and crisp air make the Lake Placid Region unlike any other destination in the fall. Autumn is an excellent time for scenic drives, nature walks, golf, hiking, mountain biking, and many other outdoor activities. Complement your daily activity at one of the region's restaurants and breweries, which offer unique dishes and a showcase for locally harvested and made specialties. As events return to the calendar, travelers can pair scenic beauty with cultural activities such as the Lake Placid Film Festival, Oktoberfest, Flaming Leaves Festival, farm cheese tours, and a visit to the Olympic sites; the result is a perfect fall experience.

Golf

Panoramic Adirondack High Peaks scenery, coupled with lush fairways and well-manicured greens, make for a one of a kind golfing experience that is unique to Lake Placid. There are five golf courses in Lake Placid, making it an ideal destination for golfers and groups.

Guided Services

Lake Placid is the home base to a variety of knowledgeable Adirondack wilderness guides to help travelers explore the mountains, lakes, and rivers surrounding Lake Placid. In addition to bringing a wealth of knowledge about the backcountry and local folklore, Adirondack guides are licensed and certified in first aid, CPR, and water safety. Guided services offer the opportunity for both first time explorers and experienced recreationalists to discover the Adirondacks in a deeper and more meaningful way.

Hiking

Hiking, and in particular hiking in the High Peaks, continues to draw a large number of visitors to the Lake Placid Region. As a result, all promotional efforts for hiking in the Lake Placid/High Peaks Region are focused on educating travelers on the importance of backcountry preparedness and choosing the right hike to fit their abilities and expectations. As a result, the primary marketing messages are Love Your ADK (Leave No Trace principles) and alternative hikes and unique nature walks. Additionally, we will continue to leverage relationships with ambassadors and influencers to help relay these important messages.

Lake Placid Olympic Sites

The Olympic Regional Development Authority (ORDA) manages several Olympic sites in the Lake Placid/Wilmington area, including Whiteface Mountain, Mount Van Hoevenberg, the Olympic Jumping Complex, and the Olympic Oval. For the 2020-2021 season, there are many updates and changes to these venues aimed at enhancing user experience. Mount Van Hoevenberg anticipates opening the Mountain Pass Lodge, which will serve as the Nordic center, Mountain Coaster check-in, and dining locale. There were also 5km of new ski trails added to the property. At the Olympic Jumping Complex, the SkyRide and Sky Flyer Zipline will remain open year-round, as COVID safety allows, so visitors can experience the thrill of soaring to new heights as ski jumpers do. All venues will adhere to strict COVID health and safety protocols.

Additionally, nearby Whiteface Mountain in Wilmington offers skiers and riders access to the largest vertical drop east of the Rockies. With terrain to meet the needs of everyone, from the never-ever to the expert, being located just a short drive to Lake Placid's rich offering of amenities makes the Lake Placid/High Peaks Region a true ski destination. There have been a few improvements to mountain operations, including facelifts to the gondola, Bear Den Mountain, and the snowmaking system. Perhaps the most noticeable improvement to Whiteface Mountain this winter will be the new Midstation Lodge. When complete, this lodge will offer skiers and riders food and beverage, multiple seating areas (indoor and out), and restrooms. Construction of Midstation is being done in two parts, with the first slated to be ready for the 2020-2021 ski season and the second projected to be completed in October 2021. In 2021, the marketing focus will be on helping connect travelers with the information they need to know before they go. In addition, an emphasis will be placed on avoiding the crowds to enjoy midweek skiing/riding.

Mountain Biking

Mountain biking has been on the rise in Lake Placid, and as an attraction saw huge growth in 2020. Lake Placid hosts the greatest concentration of single track in the Adirondacks with the two main trail systems being the Lussi Trails and the Craig Wood Trails. These trail systems are built and maintained by the Barkeater Trails Alliance. There are also two bike shops in Lake Placid, High Peaks Cyclery and Placid Planet, both offering bikes, accessories, rentals, maintenance, and more. In 2021, we will continue to promote mountain biking in Lake Placid and surrounding towns such as Wilmington and Saranac Lake.

Outdoor Recreation

Outdoor recreation continues to be one of the primary drivers for leisure travel in the Adirondacks. The abundance of breathtaking mountains, lakes, rivers, and streams offer a playground for all kinds of outdoor activities. From pastimes like golfing, boating, paddling, biking, and hiking in the warmer months to alpine skiing, cross-country skiing, ice skating, and dog sledding in the winter, the next outdoor adventure is waiting.

When promoting outdoor recreation a focus will be to continue to raise awareness of the Leave No Trace principles, and to promote alternatives to the highly congested High Peaks.

Shopping

The Tourism Sentiment Index shows that Lake Placid shopping is a positive amenity in the region. Shopping in Lake Placid offers unique souvenirs, Olympic memorabilia, Adirondack food and goods, and is a large part of a perfect day in Lake Placid.

Spring Travel

Spring travel in the Lake Placid Region is full of great indoor recreation such as pools, spas, movies, and arts and culture. Spring means premium lodging opportunities at perfect rates. Travelers can rejuvenate and pamper themselves with Lake Placid's award-winning spas and amenities. Or they can choose to beat cabin fever by partaking in activities such as spring skiing, visiting a maple sugar house, fishing, etc.

Summer Travel

In the summer, the Lake Placid Region is full of activity, adventure, and events, from outdoor experiences such as hiking, biking, and days spent on the water, to a leisurely afternoon stroll through the quaint shops of Main Street. Visit any of the Olympic venues for a unique experience and finish the day dining outdoors by the water. There are many indoor and outdoor pools in the region to enjoy, as well as boating on Lake Placid lake, while stand up paddleboarding, kayaking, or canoeing on Mirror Lake provide the opportunity to cool down on a hot summer day. However you choose to invent your perfect day, Lake Placid is ready to welcome you during the summer months.

Water Sports

Part of outdoor adventures perfect for families, water sports are an integral part of the Lake Placid Region experience. The region offers boat rentals, guides, tours, and lessons, all available for visitors to take part in.

Weddings

The Lake Placid Region is a perfect destination for weddings and reunions. There are many venues that can host large groups for receptions, parties, and lodging. The views and venues in the region are different from any other destination and include lakes, mountains, and quaint towns. Wedding planners are ready to help organize and there are many photographers, florists, bakers, and event planning professionals in the region.

Due to the continued restrictions on large gatherings, there is a growing popularity for elopements and micro weddings. The Lake Placid backdrop and rich amenity offerings make the Lake Placid Region the perfect destination to meet this new demand.

Wellness

Wellness and the Adirondacks go hand in hand. With numerous full-service spas, Lake Placid is lauded as a relaxation destination. Many of the spas offer special packages, innovative services, and local specialties such as maple scrubs. The wide range supports the needs of the traveler and the Lake Placid Tourism Sentiment Index reflects a positive traveler experience at our award-winning spas.

Winter Travel

As America's first winter vacation destination, if there is one thing the Lake Placid Region knows, it's how to get the most out of winter. The frozen lake in the center of town is a true differentiator for Lake Placid, as it provides both beauty and activities such as skating, dog sled rides, and a toboggan chute. Beyond the heart of downtown, you will find that the area is full of cross-country ski trails (including new capital improvements at Mt. Van Hoevenberg), endless opportunities for winter hiking and snowshoeing, skiing and riding at Whiteface Mountain, and much more. Pairing these activities with the amenities, shops, restaurants, and cultural attractions creates the perfect balance for a winter getaway.

SARANAC LAKE

SUMMARY

In 2013, ROOST formed a partnership with the Village of Saranac Lake, the Town of Harrietstown, and the Saranac Lake Area Chamber of Commerce for promotion of the Saranac Lake Region. Like the community's slogan states: Saranac Lake is Decidedly Different, and so are its geographic boundaries. Saranac Lake is part of the towns of North Elba and St. Armand in Essex County, and Harrietstown in Franklin County.

We look forward to continuing to work with all of these entities to support and advance the Saranac Lake Region in 2021 and beyond.

Brand Statement

Saranac Lake is a place that's authentically Adirondack and decidedly different. At first glance, it's an historic village where the lakes and mountains are as accessible as the fresh air.

A closer look reveals a downtown with a lively atmosphere where creative energy flows freely. Art, music, and healthy living help define the culture of this inspiring place, while shops and cafes provide waypoints for connecting with locals.

Here is a hub that connects surrounding communities, and it's all intertwined with waterways, forests, and roads that roll past one scenic vista after another. This is a place where a beautiful balance is struck: a nature-lover's paradise infused with bold, fun ideas and originality, all done in a way only Saranac Lakers can pull off.

Pandemic Travel Restriction

The safety of our residents and travelers remains our highest priority. During this time we have adjusted our target audience to focus on the "regional traveler." This consists of New York state residents within a 2-3 hour drive of the destination. We will continue to monitor the infection rate via the New York Forward dashboard and adjust accordingly throughout the coming year.

When the time comes that we can safely expand marketing efforts beyond the "regional traveler," we will review interest based and other demographic priorities at the campaign level from emerging data sources such as Longwoods International, ROVE mobile tracking, and the annual Leisure Travel study to identify any relevant changes in travel patterns.

2021 PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

Region Recovery

In 2021 the focus will remain on cultivating a travel demand that stimulates the Saranac Lake Region economy while keeping the safety of our residents and travelers as the highest priority. As noted in the target audience, during this time the strategy will remain focused on the “regional traveler.”

In March of 2020, “traveler alerts” were added to the top of SaranacLake.com. A large focus was also placed on making sure in-market signage, handouts, and other resources helped ensure that expectations within the community were communicated. Additionally, all facets of our marketing efforts, from emails and social media to seasonal landing pages, link travelers directly to what they need to “know before they go.” This information will remain at the forefront of marketing efforts.

The promotion of the region will remain focused on positioning the region as a destination with activities that are open and available, and align with what travelers are looking for during this time. This will include, but not be limited to, a focus on:

- Outdoor activities (6er, paddling, snowshoeing, xc-skiing, biking, etc.).
- Fresh air, open spaces, outdoor art, and decidedly different experiences.
- Unique amenities and new developments.
- Road trip itineraries.
- Continued support of businesses including a focus on take-out, curbside pick-up, and other offerings.

Rebuild of SaranacLake.com

SaranacLake.com functions well as a resource for both visitors and locals. The website, which receives hundreds of thousands of visits per year, offers up-to-date information on events, activities, attractions, and local businesses.

Starting in late 2020, ROOST convened a volunteer committee of almost 30 community representatives made up of a diverse range of industry and interest segments. Similar to the brand process we led in 2018, this team will help provide insight and feedback throughout the project in order to develop a new and innovative platform to tell the Saranac Lake story. We look forward to working with this committee to launch the new site in early 2021.

FIRST TIME VISITOR PAGE

As part of the new website, in 2021 a first time visitor page will be created. This landing page will provide those visiting the website for the first time with easy access to resources that answer basic questions they may have about visiting the Saranac Lake Region. The page is designed to be visually heavy and copy light in order to easily guide the visitor and inspire them to delve deeper into the site. The goal is to connect them quickly to the information they are seeking in order to increase their move through the travel sales funnel.

NEW “DO BUSINESS HERE” CONTENT

In addition, in 2020 ROOST will work with the Town of Harrietstown and the Saranac Lake Area Chamber of Commerce to create a section on SaranacLake.com focused on highlighting Saranac Lake as a place for business meetings, conventions, and small to medium gatherings. Additionally, there will be a section with resources for business start-ups that will include a focus on the Harrietstown Business Park and connections to the Saranac Lake Area Chamber of Commerce.

NEW “LEARN HERE” CONTENT

The Saranac Lake Region is a hub for learning in the Adirondacks. In addition to being home to the only 4-year college in the Adirondacks, Paul Smith’s College, the region is also home to North Country Community College, the Saranac Lake Central School District, North Country School, St. Bernards School and a variety of other learning opportunities. Additionally, in 2020 the practice of schooling took a major shift in response to COVID-19. While this has posed many challenges, it also has provided the opportunity to position Saranac Lake as a location for remote learning as well as taking advantage of resources such as those of the Saranac Lake Free Library and Adirondack Research Room and Historic Saranac Lake.

Region Specific Emails

The email marketing strategy grew considerably in 2020. In addition to the refresh of the Adirondacks, USA weekly email, welcome emails and retargeting emails were added to the email strategy. These new emails are branded specific to the Saranac Lake Region, and are triggered based on the behaviors of people visiting SaranacLake.com.

In 2021, a targeted email strategy will include sending segmented interest-based emails directly from Saranac Lake. These interests are determined by both the information provided when someone signs up for an email as well as the content they engage with once they have signed up.

Additionally, the “Saranac Lake Insider” emails will continue to be a way to reach locals to disseminate information about events and other happenings in the region. During the COVID-19 pandemic the “Insider” also became an effective way to share important information about business offerings, COVID-19 testing sites, and other important information for locals. As a result, the lists saw increased growth during this period and we will continue to leverage this tool for the foreseeable future.

Public Relations/Communications

As part of its overall proactive PR and communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure for the Saranac Lake Region. The strategy includes developing story pitches, writing press releases, and hosting familiarization tours (FAM) that focus on elevating key messaging that heightens interest in the region.

More specifically, PR pitches and press releases will highlight new developments, seasonal happenings, and unique travel opportunities that differentiate the region. In 2021, we will also continue to focus on aligning Saranac Lake as a decidedly different destination that is positioned to provide travelers with decidedly different travel opportunities, wide-open outdoor spaces, and limited crowds as we continue to navigate through a time when people are eager to find “safer” travel alternatives. Additionally, we will focus on writers and publications that focus on wellness and health, as well as leisure travel and outdoor publications to highlight the unique amenities and opportunities for adventure that Saranac Lake has to offer.

A large quantity of photo/video assets have been successfully acquired over the last few years to highlight the beauty and charm of the Saranac Lake Region. In 2021, an emphasis will also be placed on working with our partners at Travel Unity to cultivate authentic imagery that is more inclusive of a diverse travel audience. Additionally, photo and video acquisition has been prioritized for: paddling, attractions (arts and historic), new developments, and cycling.

Support New Developments

The Saranac Lake Region has and continues to see exciting new developments. ROOST is honored to have the opportunity to focus on and support these advancements. In the coming year this includes, but is not limited to, the Saranac Waterfront Lodge, new community art installations, and new business openings as they arise. Additionally, looking towards the future we look to position Saranac Lake, and their neighboring communities, to welcome the Adirondack Rail Trail. As these new attractions develop, ROOST will provide PR support, coordinate photo and video shoots, develop website content, leverage social media, etc.

Design Support and Placemaking

Since the rollout of the new “Decidedly Different” brand two years ago, ROOST has engaged in a number of special projects that have helped with placemaking efforts in line with the Saranac Lake brand. In the past year, the team has created new signage for Mount Pisgah, as well as creating the Politely Adirondack signage on social distancing, mask wearing, and hand washing. ROOST has also proudly assisted the village of Saranac Lake with its streetlight banner program, and a variety of other design projects to help further enhance the brand messaging. In 2021, ROOST looks forward to continuing to support the community of Saranac Lake with their design and brand implementation needs.

Itinerary Building

As the popularity and demand for “close-to-home” road tripping continues, in 2021 the focus will continue on leveraging the newly redeveloped Adirondack Wayfinder to create “trails” that connect travelers with the decidedly different amenities and experience that the Saranac Lake Region has to offer. Adirondack Wayfinder provides the opportunity to showcase Saranac Lake’s rich arts and cultural experiences and many other assets as part of Adirondack Wayfinder’s thematic trails and itineraries.

See Adirondack Wayfinder in the Adirondacks, USA Initiatives section for additional details.

Event Support

While events saw a major setback in 2020 and are projected to continue to be on pause into 2021, ROOST is committed to working with the community and the various event organizers to hit the ground running to ensure events have a strong return. Some of the support we have provided for events in the Saranac Lake in the past include:

- Managing a comprehensive events calendar on SaranacLake.com and the related “Saranac Lake Insider” email.
- Host the annual Empire State Winter Games with events at Paul Smiths, Dewey Mountain, Mt. Pisgah, and the Saranac Lake Civic Center. (Planning for return in 2022).
- Sponsorship support for Music on the Green and the Adirondack Snowshoe Festival.
- Marketing, signage and other support for popular events like Celebrate Paddling, the Saranac Lake Winter Carnival, and First Night, as well as the wide variety of unique community-driven events including, but not limited to, the Plein Air Festival, Saranac Lake Street Fest, Pumpkin Fest, the Colby Classic, and many others. (See “events” in the General Topic Description for further detail.)

Community Partnership

ROOST works closely with a wide range of stakeholders in the Saranac Lake community. Our staff coordinate with the Saranac Lake Area Chamber of Commerce, the village community development office, and volunteer committees such as the Parks and Trails Advisory Board, Downtown Advisory Board, and Arts and Culture Board on many projects and initiatives.

In order to accomplish our goals, strong community outreach, engagement, and communication are an essential component of the programming. In 2021, we look forward to continuing to build relationships with community leaders, business partners, and the greater Saranac Lake community via some of the following actions.

- Continue to collaborate with our partners identified above to set and achieve goals.
- Host seasonal meetings with community stakeholders to share updates, garner feedback, and develop collaborative plans.
- Coordinate with the Franklin County LDC to foster a collaborative relationship that allows for the initiatives by both organizations (ROOST and the FC LDC) to dovetail and enhance one another to support the goal of efficiently and effectively advancing the Saranac Lake community.
- Continued monthly email updates to Saranac Lake Marketing Partners highlighting the current program of work and identifying what is coming up next.
- Identify ways to continue to support both ongoing and new community-based initiatives.

REFERENCE: GENERAL TOPIC DESCRIPTION

The following is a list of topics that have been outlined and refined over years of community collaboration developing marketing priorities for the region. While the weight of promotion of these priorities will need to be flexible to accommodate the impacts of travel restrictions and business operations, the topics themselves will not change. As a result, this list will continue to be referenced on a regular basis as we outline the specific seasonal campaigns.

Alpine Skiing/Riding

Mt. Pisgah has gentle slopes, dedicated staff, and a welcoming atmosphere that make it especially inviting for families skiing and tubing. There are 15 skiable alpine acres with a vertical rise of 329 feet. The lift is a T-bar, which allows skiers to choose the length of their run and there are lights for night skiing. There are two runs for inner tubes and a rope tow to bring riders to the top. The mountain and lodge will abide by all health and safety guidelines this winter.

Arts and Culture

Saranac Lake's continuously expanding arts community is the heartbeat of the village and a draw for visitors who want a decidedly different kind of Adirondack adventure. The creative outlets here are abundant and include a hip music scene, funky events, drop-in workshops, and fine art galleries where a bottomless pool of local artists and artisans shine. The arts represent a significant portion of the culture of Saranac Lake, and their growth is a major asset that differentiates this community from others in the region.

From the galleries and studios that line Main Street and downtown to live and virtual theater and music, Saranac Lake's art community is a draw for new and returning travelers. ROOST will continue to promote the arts as our community adjusts to ever-changing conditions.

Cross-country Skiing

Winter is a great time to get outside in Saranac Lake. ROOST will continue to promote the ease of access as well as the health benefits and tranquility of Nordic skiing. Explore Saranac Lake cross-country skiing and experience the outdoors in solitude.

DEWEY MOUNTAIN RECREATION CENTER

Dewey has 13km of ski trails with a vertical summit of 440 feet. Lower trails are groomed for skate and classic cross-country skiing. Lower trails are also lighted for night skiing. Upper Mountain trails are un-groomed for a backcountry experience, and there are many trails designated for snowshoeing as well. A warming lodge and rentals are available. There's also a wax room with benches and irons for ski prep.

PAUL SMITH'S COLLEGE VIC

The VIC has 40km of maintained trails for classic skiers and snowshoers and 15km of groomed trails for skate and classic skiing. ROOST will be acquiring new photo and video material at the VIC this winter.

Dining

Rated in the 10 Best Small Food Scenes by USA Today, Saranac Lake's culinary arts scene offers a wide range of taste and price preferences. Grab something quick to go and you can be on the lake or trail in no time. After a day of outdoor adventure or visiting our unique local shops, visitors and residents alike are invited to hit up one of our many casual, family-friendly restaurants. Or dress up and hit an art gallery before letting one of our world-class chefs surprise you with something unique and delicious!

Downtown

Downtown Saranac Lake is a great showcase of what happens when local pride, entrepreneurship, and creativity come together. It is here that this village's decidedly different appeal is on full display. It's an urban oasis surrounded by scenic mountains and lakes where music, art, and great mountain energy merge to create a lively scene. Enjoy galleries, music venues, bars, shopping, dining, and the landmark Hotel Saranac. Year-round, there is a reason to be downtown!

SL

Events

Saranac Lake events that showcase and encourage people of all ages to display their creative side, their outdoorsy side, and their competitive side are abundant and fun for the visitor.

- Summer: Music on the Green, Plein Air Festival, ArtWalk, Stratton Ride, Olga Race, Northern Current, Saranac Lake Street Fest.
- Fall: 6er Relay, Rural Skills and Homesteading Festival, PumpkinFest.
- Winter: Light Up Downtown, First Night, Winter Carnival, ADK Snowshoe Fest, Colby Classic.

Fall Travel

Capitalize on the Adirondacks' reputation for colorful fall foliage by pushing Saranac Lake as a destination for leaf-viewing by promoting road trips and scenic drives.

Fishing

Saranac Lake's abundant waterways provide four seasons of quality fishing opportunities for anglers. Aquatic plant life, vegetated shorelines, and diverse depths make fishing in the Saranac Lake region ideal. Species such as trout, landlocked salmon, bass, and pike are found in the region. Fishing can take place as close as right downtown or in a remote pond in the St. Regis Canoe Area.

Getting Here

The Saranac Lake Region is home to the Adirondacks' only commercial airport. The Adirondack Regional Airport in Lake Clear is a full service operation offering commercial flights, charter flights, and a full service facility for private aircraft. The airport provides locals and travelers regularly scheduled flights to Logan International Airport in Boston via CapeAir.

Group Travel

Group travel is identified as ten or more people traveling together on the same itinerary. Saranac Lake has offerings that would appeal to group travel, from increasing locations to host meetings and conferences to destination weddings and family reunions to a wide variety of opportunities to focus on small-group themed travel itineraries.

Hiking

With its proximity to mountains, lakes, and wetlands, hiking in Saranac Lake is as decidedly different as the region itself. Trails leading to open summits and mellow water-side rambles are all within a short drive — or, in some cases, walk — from downtown. The Saranac Lake 6er hiking challenge was developed to encourage people to explore our nearby mountains, and it has proven to be a popular attractor for travelers. To date, more than 4,000 individuals have completed the challenge, with home addresses reaching all over the world. But the options don't end with the 6ers. Those less inclined to hike mountains will find an expansive network of mostly easy trails at the Paul Smith's College VIC, and they'll find plenty of jaw-dropping scenic vistas there, too. And for the thrill seekers who visit the region, the Western High Peaks are right down the road. These four mountains are less crowded than the popular Eastern High Peaks, but the trails are just as challenging and the summit views are nothing short of inspiring.

Additional points of interest with regard to hiking in the Saranac Lake Region include: increasing awareness and practice of Leave No Trace backcountry ethics and National Trails Day in partnership with the village and NYSDEC. ROOST has worked with Leave No Trace to develop the Love Your ADK pledge, which puts a local twist on LNT principles. More than 1,000 people have signed the pledge since its inception in 2020.

History

Through its time as a health destination, Saranac Lake became home to people from all over the world, which added to the eclectic and rich nature of its culture. Today, Saranac Lake is a popular heritage tourism destination. There is an array of fascinating historical sites, museums, tours, and special events.

SARANAC LABORATORY MUSEUM

The museum focuses on Saranac Lake's unique role in history as a world-famous center for the fresh-air treatment of tuberculosis. The museum hosts changing exhibits, talks, and special events for thousands of visitors year-round. The museum also recently teamed up with the Hotel Saranac for a joint ghost venture!

Mountain Biking

Mountain biking opportunities continue to grow in the Saranac Lake Region.

MOUNT PISGAH RECREATION CENTER

Pisgah features a 5-mile network of fun mountain bike flow trails, plus the region's only machine-built flow trail, The Cure. The views of the Saranac River, the McKenzie Range, and Whiteface Mountain are prime. Plans are also being developed for a pump track, which could be located at Mount Pisgah.

DEWEY MOUNTAIN RECREATION CENTER

BETA recently completed about 4 miles of free mountain biking trails that include steep climbs, winding descents, and wooded terrain. Find great views at the top of Dewey Mountain, two beginner trails, one intermediate, and two expert trails.

Paddling

Paddling in Saranac Lake is the perfect way to be immersed in breathtaking scenery, to observe wildlife, and to take in the fresh mountain air! We're called Saranac Lake for a reason; three reasons, actually! There are three Saranac lakes — Upper, Middle, and Lower — and they're all connected by the Saranac River. Our decidedly different village is the perfect destination for paddle sports because we're surrounded by lakes, ponds, and rivers. Lake Flower, Lower Saranac Lake, Lake Colby, and the Saranac River are all readily accessible. In addition, there are numerous paddling options located within a short drive from Saranac Lake, including the historic St. Regis Canoe Area. Saranac Lake is unique not just for its abundance of water, but also for the diversity of wildlife and the unrivaled mountain views.

OUTFITTERS AND GUIDES

If you are interested in a day trip and don't have the gear — no worries! Outfitters in Saranac Lake will hook you up with the gear you need, from kayaks and canoes to SUPs. If you are interested in longer trips, seek out a guide, also available at outfitters in and around town.

FESTIVALS AND EVENTS

Because paddle sports are so important to us, we celebrate it with a month-long festival! June brings "Celebrate Paddling ADK," a month-long celebration of events, guided trips, and other activities centered around paddling.

Saranac Lake is also the landing spot for the Adirondack Canoe Classic, better known as the '90-Miler,' the largest multi-day paddle sports event in the Northeast. This weekend-long race takes paddlers across the "Highway of the Adirondacks" and throughout the Blue Line, from Old Forge to Lake Flower Landing in Saranac Lake. This race is open to all levels of paddlers and all types of boats — just no boats with engines. Along the route, paddlers experience the stunning diversity and beauty of the Adirondacks.

NORTHERN FOREST CANOE TRAIL

Saranac Lake is a stop along the epic 740-mile canoe trail that takes paddlers across the Northeastern United States and parts of Canada. The trail runs from Old Forge, New York to Fort Kent, Maine. Whether you plan to paddle the entire route or just a portion, Saranac Lake is a great scenic stop along the way.

Road Cycling

The Saranac Lake area has desirable terrain — wide shoulders, open roads, little traffic, and sweeping views.

Snowshoeing

Winter is a great time to get outside in Saranac Lake. Snowshoeing is a wonderful choice for a fun winter activity because it's easy to learn, inexpensive, and can be enjoyed by people of all ages, fitness levels, and experience.

DEWEY MOUNTAIN RECREATION CENTER

Dewey has 4km of snowshoe trails to enjoy. The lower trails are easier and lighted at night, while the upper mountain trails are ungroomed for a backcountry experience. A warming lodge and rentals are available. Events include the Adirondack Snowshoe Fest.

PAUL SMITH'S COLLEGE VIC

The VIC has 40km of maintained trails for classic skiers and snowshoers and 10km of snowshoe-only trails along ponds and up Jenkins Mountain. The trail network is expansive and the terrain is varied. A warming lodge and rentals are available. Events include the Jingle Bell Race and the Adirondack Snowshoe Fest.

Summer Travel

Capitalize on the Adirondacks' reputation as a family getaway destination. Saranac Lake summers are adventure-filled and time to make lasting memories while also providing an opportunity to unplug, unwind, and reconnect with family and friends.

Winter Travel

Saranac Lake is a town that loves winter, and it shows. Saranac Lake is a destination of snow experiences and winter traditions. Being one of the coldest places in the country has its stigma. It is key to use storytelling and marketing in a way that lessens this barrier to winter travel.

TARGET MARKET

The following targeting parameters represent the primary Designated Market Area (DMA) and general travel demographics used for conducting targeted marketing efforts for the Whiteface Region. NOTE: For some specific topics, additional refinements may be made to the DMA and traveler demographics, as well as targeting based on interests relevant to the topic.

Primary DMAs

- Albany-Schenectady-Troy
- Burlington, VT-Plattsburgh, NY (Excluding Adirondack counties)
- New York City
- Quebec
- Syracuse

Secondary DMAs

- Boston (Manchester)
- Ontario
- Philadelphia, PA
- Rochester
- Utica
- Major interests: travel, adventure travel, family travel, outdoor enthusiasts, outdoor recreation.
- Highest interest in mountain biking of all of our regions.
- Highest level of interest in skiing and riding among travelers participating in outdoor activities.

Pandemic Travel Restriction

The safety of our residents and travelers remains our highest priority. During this time we have adjusted our target audience to focus on the “regional traveler.” This consists of New York state residents within a 2-3 hour drive of the destination. We will continue to monitor the infection rate via the New York Forward dashboard and adjust accordingly throughout the coming year.

When the time comes that we can safely expand marketing efforts beyond the “regional traveler,” we will review interest based and other demographic priorities at the campaign level from emerging data sources such as Longwoods International, ROVE mobile tracking, and the annual Leisure Travel study to identify any relevant changes in travel patterns.

2021 PROGRAMMING HIGHLIGHTS

Region Recovery

In 2021 the focus will remain on cultivating a travel demand that stimulates the economy for the Whiteface Region, while keeping the safety of our residents and travelers the highest priority. As noted in the target audience, during this time the strategy will remain focused on the “regional traveler.”

In March of 2020, “traveler alerts” were added to the top of WhitefaceRegion.com. Additionally, all facets of our marketing efforts, from emails and social media to seasonal landing pages, link travelers directly to what they need to “know before they go.” This information will remain at the forefront of marketing efforts.

The promotion of the region will remain focused on positioning the region as a destination with activities that are open and available, and align with what travelers are looking for during this time. This will include, but not be limited to, a focus on:

- Outdoor activities (skiing, mountain biking, road cycling, fly fishing, attractions, etc.).
- Affordable destination.
- Avoid the crowds and get close to attractions and outdoor recreation.
- Continued support of businesses including a focus on take-out, curbside pick-up, and other offerings.

First Time Visitor Page

In 2021, a first time visitor page will be created for WhitefaceRegion.com. This landing page will provide those visiting the website for the first time with easy access to resources that answer basic questions they may have about visiting the Whiteface Region. The page is designed to be visually heavy and copy light in order to easily guide the visitor and inspire them to delve deeper into the site. The goal is to connect them quickly to the information they are seeking in order to increase their move through the travel sales funnel.

Region Specific Emails

The email marketing strategy grew considerably in 2020. In addition to the refresh of the Adirondacks, USA weekly email, welcome emails and retargeting emails were added to the email strategy. These new emails are branded specific to the Whiteface Region, and are triggered based on the behaviors of people visiting WhitefaceRegion.com.

In 2021, a targeted email strategy will include sending segmented interest-based emails directly from the Whiteface Region. These interests are determined by both the information provided when someone signs up for an email as well as the content they engage with once they have signed up.

Additionally, the “Whiteface Region Insider” emails will continue to be a way to reach locals to disseminate information about events and other happenings in the region. During the COVID-19 pandemic the “Insider” also became an effective way to share important information about business offerings, COVID-19 testing sites, and other important information for locals. As a result, the lists saw increased growth during this period and we will continue to leverage this tool for the foreseeable future.

Public Relations/Communications

As part of its overall proactive PR and communications strategy, ROOST pursues earned media exposure for the Whiteface Region. The strategy includes developing story pitches, writing press releases, and hosting familiarization tours (FAM) that focus on elevating key messaging that heighten interest in the region.

More specifically, PR pitches and press releases will highlight new developments, seasonal happenings, and unique travel opportunities that differentiate the region. In 2021, we will focus on targeting family travel writers to highlight all of the family-friendly activities and affordable lodging in the area. We will also continue to work with writers who contribute to mountain biking publications to showcase the expanding trail networks and other biking amenities. Lastly, we will seek fly fishing writers who can highlight the world-class fishing on the Ausable River.

A large quantity of photo/video assets have been successfully acquired over the last few years to highlight the beauty and charm of the Whiteface Region. In 2020, our videographer/photographer was able to focus on editing raw video footage acquired in previous years as well as acquire landscape photos for use throughout the year. For 2021, photo and video acquisition priorities will be: cross country skiing, hiking, lodging, and leisure travel activities. Having more diversity in the image collection for the Whiteface Region also remains a top priority in 2021.

Itinerary Building

As the popularity and demand for “close-to-home” road tripping continues, in 2021 the focus will continue on leveraging the newly redeveloped Adirondack Wayfinder to create “trails” that showcase the unique amenities and attractions in Wilmington, Jay, Upper Jay, and Au Sable Forks. Additionally, Adirondack Wayfinder provides the opportunity to connect the Whiteface Region to the greater Adirondacks via thematic trails and itineraries.

See Adirondack Wayfinder in the Adirondacks, USA Initiatives section for additional details.

Branding

Much discussion has been held about whether the term “Whiteface Region” is appropriate for Wilmington, Jay, Upper Jay, and Au Sable Forks. In 2021, the priority is to work with these communities to evaluate the current branding and outline an appropriate scope of work should a new brand be needed to position the region as we look to the future.

Community Engagement

While ROOST may lead the region’s promotion efforts, it is the numerous business owners and community members that make the region a special and successful destination. In 2021, we are committed to continuing to build relationships with community leaders, business owners, and to work closely with the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to support their initiatives.

the Whiteface Region offers immediate access to many of them.
